Police Grab $25,000 Bet On Cockfight

HAMILTON (CP)—Ontario Provincial Police said today they recovered $25,000 bet in a "floating" cockfight they broke up early Sunday in a nearby Ancaster township home.

An OPP flying squad and Hamilton morality police arrested Ancaster township councillor John J. (Paddy) Green, 65, and 44 other men, including many from elsewhere in the province.

Also among those charged "with encouraging a cockfight" were two Americans. Many of the tournaments, said to have moved from location to location, were believed to have originated in the United States.

Green, also a Hamilton hotel owner, was released on $350 bail. The others were released on $50 bail apiece.

Police said they discovered the men bent over a full-scale cockpit in the basement of a modernistic home. Thirty-five live birds, wearing steel spurs, and eight dead roosters, were found.

Algeria Mob Attacks Britons

ALGIERS, Algeria (Reuters)—An angry anti-American crowd of French settlers attacked a British Parliament member and two British television cameramen Sunday because they believed the Britons were Americans.

South Africa Racial Bill Becomes Law

CAPE TOWN (Reuters)—The South African Parliament today gave final approval to a bill revising the electoral law in line with the Nationalist government's white supremacy policy of racial segregation.

The Senate and lower house, sitting in joint session, voted 174 to 68 to cut the rights of voters of mixed blood by putting them on a separate electoral list.

The legislation also contains provisions to make Parliament "supreme" over the nation's high courts.

Today's third and final reading of the bill ensures that no non-white South Africans will be able to vote for ordinary members of Parliament.

Police rescued Labor MP Woodrow Wyatt and the two cameramen when the crowd turned on them at the funeral of an Algerian architect slain by Algerian rebels who ambushed a bus near here Friday.

The rapidly deteriorating situation in Algeria and a new flare-up of violence in Morocco formed the background to French government talks at Paris on France's North African problems.

President Rene Coty met with the cabinet to draw up urgent plans to deal with the situation in Algeria, where intensifying rebel activity has caused increasing unrest among French settlers.

Robert Lacoste, French minister residing in Algiers, was expected to ask the cabinet for clear directives on economic, social and political reforms in Algeria.

At the same time Franco-Moroccan talks on future relations between the two countries under an "interdependence" formula were continuing here.

New Talks Open In Cyprus Crisis

BY SHAHE GUBENLIAN

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters)

Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd opened talks with British officials here today in a visit that may bring a crucial meeting on the Cyprus question between himself and Archbishop Makarios.

Lennox-Boyd said on his arrival by plane Sunday night that he expected to see the Greek Orthodox Church leader, who heads agitation for union of this British Mediterranean island colony with Greece. But he said a meeting with Makarios would depend on his talks with Governor Sir John Harding.

Makarios Sunday sent his "final reply" to Harding on British proposals for island self-government, offered as a substitute for the Greek Cypriot demand for complete freedom to unite with Greece.

A major obstacle holding up a Cyprus settlement is understood to be Britain's reluctance to grant the amnesty demand.

Lennox-Boyd is here for two days. The atmosphere was tense as he met with Harding.

Within hours of his arrival Sunday night terrorists attacked a police station 17 miles from Nicosia. They drove up to the Chatox village station, got out of their car and opened up on the station with at least four machine-guns.

Troops and police fired back and the terrorists drove off into the night. There were no casualties.

Eleven Die In Crash of U.S. Bomber

DAYTON, O. (UP)—A four-engine air force bomber crashed into a barn near here today, killing all 11 persons aboard, officials at Wright Patterson air force base said.

Authorities said the plane set fire to the barn. The blaze spread to a nearby house, believed unoccupied.

12 Nations Meet Today For 'Peace Atoms' Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twelve countries today start a conference that shapes up as a contest between the United States and Russia over the form of a proposed world atoms-for-peace agency.

The Russians want it set up under the United Nations Security Council, where their veto can be effectively used in running its affairs. The United States wants it to have more autonomy — as a specialized

RED A-BOMB STOCKPILE ONLY THIRD OF U.S.?

LONDON (UP)—The Manchester Guardian published scientifically calculated estimates of world A-bomb production today which suggested the United States has three times as many A-bombs as Russia.

The Guardian's scientific correspondent said even Britain, which is in third place in the atomic production race, "now has enough nuclear explosive in its possession to destroy every large city in the world and probably most of the large towns as well."

He estimated the American stockpile at more than 32,500 A-bombs and the Soviet Union's at 10,000 — "perhaps sufficiently large to make the military think it is large enough for all foreseeable military purposes."

Ike Decision Due Wednesday?

Press Secretary Adroitly Dodges Question by White House Newsmen

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower "in all probability" will hold a news conference Wednesday, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said today.

The press secretary declined to say whether Mr. Eisenhower's announcement will be made after the afternoon closing of the New York stock market to minimize its effect on market prices.

"Do you know the president's intentions?" he was asked.

WOULDN'T TELL

Hagerty was reminded that he said in Thomasville that Mr. Eisenhower had not communicated his decision to anyone in Washington. Asked if that still held, Hagerty said he was not going to discuss the matter "and that doesn't mean yes or no."

Asked if the White House had requested radio or television time for the president this week, Hagerty answered with a flat "No."

Mr. Eisenhower has said that he expected to make his decision by the end of this month, and that he was inclined to announce it at a news conference Wednesday Feb. 29, the last day of the month.

Belief that Mr. Eisenhower will say "yes" has been strong in Republican circles in the past few days.

But Mr. Eisenhower himself has offered no public clue since he returned from his 11-day vacation in South Georgia, where he tested his physical strength with fairly strenuous golfing and hunting.

Some sources close to Mr. Eisenhower looked for a "yes, but..." answer.

PM Announces Wage Boosts For Servants

New Scales Ready Soon as Possible

OTTAWA (BUP)—The government will "proceed as quickly as possible" to boost civil servants' salaries.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent disclosed this decision today in a letter to Fred Whitehouse, president of the Civil Service Federation of Canada.

Similar letters were sent to the Amalgamated Civil Servants of Canada, the Professional Institute of the Public Service of Canada and the Civil Service Association of Ottawa.

It will take a month or six weeks, the prime minister said, to compile the facts and figures on which the raises will be based.

Karamanlis Forming New Greek Cabinet

ATHENS (AP)—Premier Constantine Karamanlis resigned today and King Paul immediately asked him to form a new government.

The National Radical Union led by Karamanlis won 163 of Parliament's 300 seats in Greece's general elections Feb. 19.

With his solid majority, Karamanlis, pledged to continue Greece's alliances with the West, is expected to have no difficulty in forming a cabinet.

Montreal Takes Full Force

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Winter unleashed its most vicious punch at eastern Canada during the weekend.

Ontario and Quebec bore the brunt as a chain of rain, snow and sledgehammer gales exploded eastward from Windsor to Quebec City. Wind threw communication and power lines into chaos while snow and sleet made death traps of the highways.

Thirteen persons—ten in Ontario—died in traffic crashes during the height of the storm in the two provinces.

The Maritimes caught the tail end of the big blow as it petered out Sunday. Gales brought a mixture of rain, freezing rain and snow to Nova Scotia and lashing waves left some coastal roads impassable.

STILL COLD

The Prairies, which have had more than their share of weather worries this winter, escaped the onslaught but remained caught in the grip of a cold spell.

Stranded cars were commonplace in southern Quebec and the heavy-snow belt of Ontario between Barrie and Orangeville, about 60 miles north of Toronto.

The Sault Ste. Marie district was another trouble spot as 40-mile winds drove heavy drifts before them and reduced visibility to zero. There were three traffic deaths in this area and for a while accidents were reported at the rate of one an hour, with damage running into the thousands.

OPERATIONS 'IRREGULAR'

Airline schedules were thrown out of kilter at Toronto and Montreal. Things were back to normal in the Ontario capital early Sunday but at Montreal a Trans-Canada Air Lines spokesman reported operations into the Maritimes and Newfoundland were "irregular." The airline expected schedules to be restored early today.

Windsor had a dust storm to add to its woes. The reddish dust, an offshoot of a Texas tornado, whirled in with the snow and sleet and left a coating on buildings and cars after the blow had passed.

Wind was the big troublemaker in the eastern part of the province.

Montreal received the full force of the gales and Quebec Hydro reported that at one time an estimated 450,000 persons were without power.

SUMMERFIELD, ILL. (AP)—

The season's worst dust storm and first major outbreak of tornadoes left at least 12 dead, dozens injured, and hundreds homeless.

Property damage ran into the millions.

Violent winds left a broken trail of damage extending from Texas to eastern Ohio.

Hardest hit was an area in southern Illinois near St. Louis. Tornadoes, striking in predawn darkness, killed six and injured 10.

About half the 106 businesses or residences in the town of Summerfield, a community of 500, were destroyed or damaged.

LONDON (AP)—Europe's worst cold wave in living memory was breaking up today but violent rainstorms and landslides struck new terror in Italy.

For the first time in the month-long Arctic siege, government meteorologists confidently predicted an end to the freeze-up that has already claimed 915 lives and cost an estimated $2,000,000,000.

Worker Lost From Boat Up-Island

William Grant, about 40, civilian employee of the RCAF at Holberg, at the extreme northern end of Vancouver Island, fell from a boat early Sunday morning and is presumed drowned, according to RCMP.

Police said the missing man fell from an outboard powered runabout in Holberg Inlet at 2 a.m. Details were not available.

RCMP at Port Alice were notified, and an immediate search was undertaken by RCAF craft, the police and residents of the area.

Holberg, a logging community and site of an air force base, is at the northern end of Holberg Inlet, a 23-mile arm of Quatsino Sound.

Soviet Mideast Moves Bring War Near--Lloyd

LONDON (UP)—British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said today that Soviet moves into the Middle East brought the danger of war nearer than any single act "since the invasion of South Korea."

"Their incursion into this field was purely mischievous," Lloyd told the House of Commons in a foreign affairs debate.

But he rejected a suggestion that Russia be invited to take part in the Western arms control program in the Middle East.

Arab countries buying newly available Soviet arms "are playing a dangerous game which might in the end lead them to the same fate as the satellites," he said.

"I think that the action of the Soviet Union in this respect has greatly added to tension in the area and, in my view, since the invasion of Korea no other single action has done more to bring nearer the danger of war."

Lloyd said the "simplicity" of those who want to let the Soviets control arms sales in the Middle East is "surprising."

"The Soviet deliveries were a deliberate act of policy and were completely contrary to their present profession of a desire to lessen tension," he said.

is obscured on X-ray plates by the TB condition.

Her husband has had tuberculosis six years.

"Once they contact silicosis and tuberculosis," said the pleasantly spoken woman, "the condition doesn't improve. That's why I'm so interested in getting a pension."

"I've waited six years, and gone through far worse than this," said the attractive mother, who wore gum boots, a warm coat, but no hat. "I've never been in Victoria before."

ROCK MINER

Her husband had been a hard rock miner for 20 years before being confined to the sanatorium. Mrs. Zucco herself had tuberculosis, and was in hospital eight months before being released in 1954.

The family breakfasted this morning at the Empress—eggs and toast and bacon.

"The children gaped at the bill," smiled Mrs. Zucco, "and were really impressed with the marble washrooms."

"Real classy," said Johnny, playing with a yellow yo-yo, quite indifferent to the circumstances.

SILICOSIS?

While compensation doctors have discovered no evidence of silicosis, Mrs. Zucco said she took her husband to Bellingham, when he was temporarily out of hospital, and a reputable doctor and radiologist there said there was distinct evidence of silicosis. So did another doctor on the Canadian side, "but we can't get anything in writing," the brown-haired mother said.

"I don't know whether the trouble is the government or the compensation board, but how else am I going to find out?" she asked.

In Vancouver, Friday, Labor Minister Lyle Wickes was quoted as saying he didn't think the Zucco case was a government matter.

'LOT OF FAITH'

"I really believe the Lord had a lot to do with this," she said. "No, I haven't any particular religious belief, just a lot of faith I've gained through hardship."

And how have you lived the past six years?

"I've been helped by social assistance, and lots of wonderful friends, and I've worked when I could. I don't like to write this all off as a gift."

While the little family unit was sitting on the steps, Liberal leader Arthur Laing and Oak Bay Liberal Gibbs approached. They both spoke with Mrs. Zucco, and Mr. Laing took the two youngest into the legislative buildings, where he bought them gum and candy.

"Look what the man gave us," said Johnny, excited, when he returned a few minutes later.

Mrs. Zucco and family have been living in New Westminster in a "revenue" house. She said the house costs $100 monthly, and when all the rooms are rented returns are $140. Last month she could meet only one-half the rent as rooms weren't full.

"So we'll be evicted March 26," she said calmly.

She plans "only one-half hour ahead. I have enough money to stay over a day, and I'm going to sit here until Mr. Wickes or somebody else that can help us comes along."

GROUP HELPED

Funds to get the family here were provided by a group of men in the sanatorium, interested in the Zucco case.

Her children, with exception of the youngest, should now be in school, but she answers this way: "We are trying to do a lot more here than if the children were in school."

With her are documents signed by three other patients in hospital, who claim they also are suffering silicosis. One such is from Robert Radmanovich, with correspondence which dates back to 1952.

The family sat on newspapers, with a bag of chocolate bars and apples nearby.

"We had a good breakfast, the children are warm, and we're used to eating two meals a day," said Mrs. Zucco.

KNOW YOUR TEACHER

In the belief that parents of children attending schools in the Greater Victoria area are interested in knowing about personalities of the teachers who educate them, The Times continues a series of "Know Your Teacher" articles. The articles will appear three times a week. The Teachers' Association is co-operating.

Former city softball and soccer player Jack M. Drummond, 2141 Neil, is a math and social studies teacher at S. J. Willis Junior High School where he has taught since its opening in 1950.

He became a teacher just before the Second World War, in which he served in the Royal Canadian Navy.

His spare time—summer holiday pastime, is house building, interspersed with golf. Born in Victoria, Mr. Drummond obtained his early education at Oaklands, Quadra and Victoria High schools, then Victoria College and Normal School, from which he graduated in 1939.

Port Renfrew, isolated community on Vancouver Island's west coast, was his first charge, keeping him busy teaching grades 1-10 in a one-room school.

For the next two years he was principal at Royal Oak, then he joined the RCN as a radio artificer in 1942, serving on destroyer escorts and later as a gunner on merchant ships.

In 1946 Mr. Drummond enrolled at University of British Columbia and obtained his BA the next year. For an additional year he worked at UBC on his master's degree and is currently writing a thesis entitled "Growth of the Victoria School System."

A former physical education instructor, he also taught for two years at West Vancouver.

Reds Linked To Racial Uproar

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—An Orleans parish county school board member who is pledged to maintain racial segregation has accused Roman Catholic institutions of perhaps "unwittingly" aligning themselves with sinister forces.

Emile A. Wagner Jr. made the assertion Sunday following a non-segregated inter-racial meeting at Loyola of the South, a Catholic university. Hulan E. Jack, first Negro president of New York City's borough of Manhattan, shared the speakers' platform with Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel.

Wagner, a Catholic and Loyola alumnus, said in a statement criticizing the university that certain institutions and agencies in their zeal to foster racial integration upon an unwilling and intellectually sincere majority may be unwittingly aligning themselves with sinister forces—which are working to bring about . . . the destruction of the democratic way of life."

Archbishop Rummel, in his speech, had similar charges to make of segregation defenders. The archbishop said they may be "doing the work of those striving to introduce the principles of atheism and infidelity and the principles of Communism in the United States."

Wagner strongly objected to the appearance of the New York speaker. "I am not going to say Mr. Jack is a Communist or anything like that—I don't know," he said. "But the public is entitled to know the facts."

The school board member released to the press four typewritten pages allegedly containing information associating Jack with organizations listed as subversive.

Jack, categorically denying the associations, said, "I never had any activities with these organizations of any nature." The typewritten pages, undated and unsigned, were marked "information from the files of the committee on un-American activities, U.S. House of Representatives."

HISTORY OF HANGING

Wigged Fossils Imposed Terror

In view of the public interest in the recent vote to abolish the death penalty in Britain, and the immorality of the report of the Canadian committee on capital punishment, which will be brought down in the Commons during this session, the Victoria Daily Times is publishing a series of articles by noted writer Arthur Koestler. They are condensed from his forthcoming book, "Reflections on Hanging."

By ARTHUR KOESTLER

In 1810, Samuel Romilly brought in a Bill to abolish the death penalty for shoplifting to the value of five shillings and over. The Bill was passed by the Commons and defeated by the House of Lords on no fewer than six occasions, in 1810, 1811, 1813, 1816, 1818 and 1820. In the first House of Lords debate on the Bill, on May 30, 1810, Chief Justice Lord Ellenborough made two speeches which, later on, became almost as famous in the legal profession as Nelson's "Kiss me, Hardy."

I trust that your lordships will pause before you assent to an experiment pregnant with danger to the security of property, and before you repeal a statute which has so long been held necessary for public security. I am convinced with the rest of the judges, public expediency requires there should be no remission of the terror denounced against this description of offenders. Such will be the consequences of the repeal of this statute that I am certain depredations to an unlimited extent would immediately be committed.

My lords, if we suffer this bill to pass, we shall not know where to stand; we shall not know whether we are upon our heads or our feet.

Repeat this law and see the contrast—no man can trust himself for an hour out of doors without the most alarming apprehensions, that, on his return, every vestige of his property will be swept off by the hardened robber.

No Protests Came From Judges

Three years later, in 1813, the later chief justice common pleas, Lord Wynford, stated the judges' attitude in an unusually frank manner. The text of his speech was Nolumus leges Anglae mutari—"We do not wish the laws of England to be changed." This referred, however, only to mitigations, not to aggravations, of the law. There is no known example of a protest coming from the judges against adding new capital offences to the statute.

Nine years later, in 1822, Ellenborough's successor, Lord Tenterden, defended the death penalty for horse and sheep-stealing with that traditional bravado of the learned ass: "We have at present in this country no substitute for the punishment of death."

Another sixty years later, in 1883, Sir James Stephen demanded the reintroduction of the death penalty for forgery and the receiving of stolen goods, and added: "These views, it is said, are opposed to the doctrine that human life is sacred. I have never been able to understand what the doctrine means, or how its truth is alleged to be proved."

That last sober phrase sums up the attitude of the oracles from the sixteenth century to this day. The terror of the French Revolution preserves in retrospect the grandeur of a tragic but essential chapter of history. The terror of the Bloody Code was wanton and

Stevenson Backs Desegregation Decision

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson spoke strongly Saturday night in favor of elimination of racial barriers.

Asserting America is nothing unless it stands for equal treatment for all citizens under the law, Stevenson said freedom is unfinished business "until all citizens may vote and live and go to school and work without encountering in their daily lives barriers which we reject in our law, our conscience and our religion."

The supreme court's desegregation decisions, he said, "speak clearly the law and the conscience of this land; they recognize that a time for transition and compliance is necessary, time for the readjustments that have to be made. But they do not recognize or permit repudiation or rejection of these decisions of the court and of the people."

Hailing the advent of desegregation, Stevenson said it will bring the dawn of "the day of full democracy in our public schools" and could well become "one of the greatest accomplishments of our generation."

"I pray to God," he said, "that this day may not be marred by the bitterness of any who would assert views, no matter how deeply felt, against the laws of the land and humanity."

Quebec Joins Tax Plan Ending 10-Year Holdout

QUEBEC (CP)—Premier Duplessis has announced Quebec province will accept federal payments under the new federal-provincial tax-sharing plan.

Mr. Duplessis' decision comes a few months before a provincial election expected in June or early July. It means that for the first time in 10 years Quebec will fall in line with Canada's other provinces in taking part in a federal-provincial tax arrangement.

Under current federal-provincial tax-sharing agreements, expiring March 31, 1957, the province suspends certain direct taxation in return for federal subsidies. Under the new proposal, no commitments or suspension of certain taxes are required.

B.C. Cheated —Gunderson

VANCOUVER (CP) — Einar Gunderson, Premier Bennett's financial adviser, says British Columbia is being penalized by the federal government for its growth and prosperity.

Mr. Gunderson told members of Vancouver Burrard Social Credit Association tax equalization—payments suggested by the federal government during the recent federal-provincial conference are "unfair to B.C."

Mr. Gunderson said that "because our earnings are high—and because the federal government gets more taxes per capita from B.C. than any other province except Ontario—we would only get about $2,000,000."

"But Quebec would get about $41,000,000. There's a fine hand behind it somewhere," Mr. Gunderson said, "particularly when I look at that $41,000,000."

New Baseball Park Damaged by Fire

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—An explosive fire Sunday damaged a section of Minneapolis' stylish new baseball stadium, a multi-million dollar structure being built in suburban Bloomington.

Officials said the blaze was cut short just in time to avoid orphaning the Minneapolis Millers of the American Association. Vice-chairman William Boyer of the governing Metropolitan Sports Area Commission said the club's scheduled April 24 opener will not be affected.

pression it is "making a gift to the people of Quebec."

Last payments collected by Quebec under a federal-provincial taxation plan were in 1946 with the expiration of the tax-sharing agreements signed by all Canadian provinces in 1942.

Former Liberal premier Adolphe Godbout, now a senator, had signed the tax-agreement for Quebec.

Mr. Duplessis' Union Nationale party rode back to power over Mr. Godbout's Liberals in 1944 after terming the agreement a betrayal of Quebec's rights. Mr. Duplessis turned down both the 1947 and 1952 post-war tax agreements and his party was re-elected with large majorities in the 1948 and 1952 provincial elections, largely on his no-deal-with-Ottawa platform.

Federal authorities estimate equalization payments—a formula to bring per capita revenue in all the provinces to a common level—would bring Quebec $44,000,000 on the basis of the current national revenue level.

Chemainus Team Wins

CHEMAINUS — Chemainus midgets won the mid-Island midget invitational basketball tournament for the third year in a row.

The local squad defeated Nanaimo 35-25 in the semi-final game and went on to whop Duncan 48-25 for the tourney championship.

Roy Vater of Chemainus, leading scorer in the tourney, was named the most valuable player. Trophy for the most sportsman-like team went to Duncan.

U.K. Hangman Quits To Run His Own Pub

LONDON (AP)—Albert Pierpoint, Britain's official hangman, is quitting the job—just as Britain seems about to give up hanging.

The 45-year-old executioner said Sunday, however, that the campaign to abolish the gallows for convicted murderers has nothing to do with his decision. He emphasized he is resigning so that he can devote all his time to running his pub.

The House of Commons already has given tentative approval to the abolition of capital punishment for murder although Prime Minister Eden has indicated the government will refuse to support a "no hanging" bill when it is voted upon shortly.

Pierpoint, a short, stocky man with a ready smile, is giving up only a part-time job. He got £15 for each hanging. But he found the macabre sideline a good business for it attracted the curious to his pub, called "Help the Poor Struggler."

Now he has taken over a 300-year-old inn, "The Rose and Crown," near Blackpool. There, usually smoking a cigar or cheroot, he is a cheery landlord ready to crack a joke or entertain the customers by joining in a song while drawing a pint.

Mao's Plane Sabotaged

HONG KONG (Reuters)—The Chinese-language newspaper Hong Kong Times says the personal aircraft of Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-tung exploded and crashed near Peking on Feb. 13, a few hours before he was due to fly in it.

The newspaper says the crash was caused by sand put in the engine in a deliberate plot to kill Mao.

Rare 'Red' Northern Lights Intrigue World's Scientists

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—An arc of red, described as the rarest form of aurora borealis, stretched across the dark northern sky early Saturday and scientists asked for reports from observers.

Dr. C. T. Elvey, director of the University of Alaska's geophysical institute, said the phenomenon may have been visible as far south as Seattle.

Dr. Elvey said the Norwegian geophysicist, Karl Stormer, had received only four reports of persons seeing the "red arc" in 40 years of research.

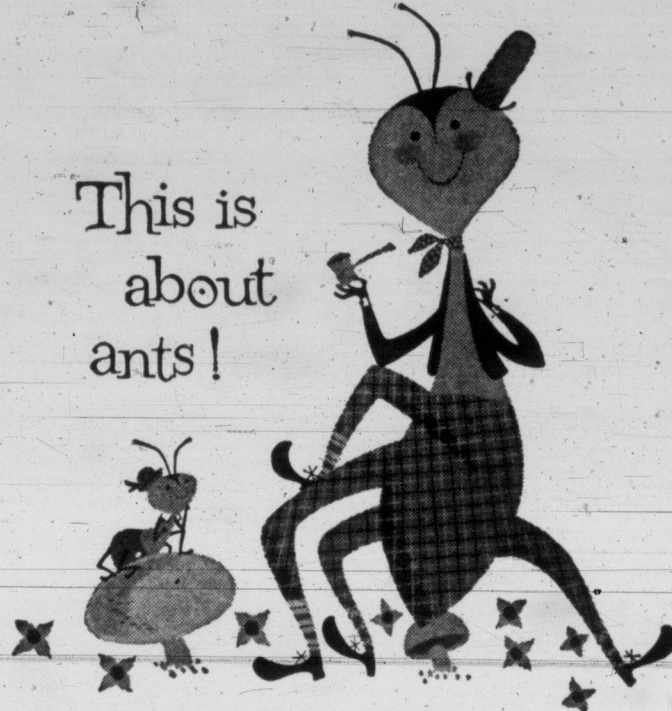

Dr. Elvey asked that persons write to him at the University of Alaska if they saw the "red arc."

This is about ants!

Ever watched a battalion of ants in action? Smart.

They'll spend hours slicing up whatever happens to be handy and edible for storage in the freezer.

Even ants have rainy days to put away for.

Then there are people. Some of them, instead of slicing up their pay and storing some away—spend it. Along comes vacation and how much extra money do they have for fun?

None.

If this could be you, take the ant's lesson in the art of saving. Open a Savings Account at Imperial Bank of Canada, and start saving regularly, so next vacation you can enjoy the best holiday you ever had.

OUTDOOR SKATING, SMITH PLAN

Winter Use Proposed For Model Yacht Pool

Conversion of the model yacht pool at Holland Point into an outdoor skating rink will be proposed to city parks committee by Ald. J. D. Smith.

He said Saturday his proposal followed investigations that indicate ice-making equipment could be installed in the 290 by 90 foot pond at a cost of $75,000.

Lightweight plastic pipes would be installed in November and removed in March, according to his plan.

Asked about the effect of winter rains on the open ice surface, the alderman said, "Rainfall here is not so harmful as one might think. If there was too much rain, then they'd have to flash-flood the ice again."

If it proved necessary, he added, plastic roofing could be obtained from a Vancouver firm for a canopy and possibly a windbreak.

Ald. Smith refused to discuss financing, saying only that capital costs would not come out of the pockets of Greater Victoria homeowners. Operation costs, estimated at $10,000 a year, could be paid by sale of season tickets, "at no more than $1 each."

IDEAL FOR CHILDREN The model yacht pool, while larger in area than the ice surface at Memorial Arena, is kidney shaped and would not likely be adaptable for a regulation hockey surface, but ideal for children.

"This will be one of the greatest things Victoria has ever had to offer the children and a tremendous tourist attraction. It will eliminate the necessity of children getting up early in the morning to practice skating or hockey, save the high cost, especially for large families, of skating at Memorial Arena and also because of the healthful outside environment, be a great asset in combatting juvenile delinquency," said Ald. Smith.

He reported that there are 29 outdoor artificial ice rinks in Canada now, none of which are in B.C. Canadian Ice Machine Company sent engineers here after Ald. Smith consulted with the firm, and stated the yacht pool would be ideal for the purpose.

Ottawa Draws the Line

CLEARLY THE PROVINCES can expect from the Federal Government no more financial concessions than they have been offered already in the formula known as Plan C.

Mr. St. Laurent is willing to reconvene the federal-provincial conference to discuss marginal details of the proposed taxation agreement. He will not alter its basic terms. He has gone as far as any national government can possibly go while protecting its own revenues and carrying its own responsibilities.

Plan C, as originally drafted, was extremely generous to the provinces and its great virtue was that it treated every province alike. There were no special concessions to any part of the nation (the legend of a special bonus to Quebec being only a clumsy smear engineered by the Federal Government's Social Credit enemies.)

The details of Plan C already have been explained fully here and need not be repeated. Suffice it to say that no province can secure under it less revenues than it receives now and that all will secure more revenues automatically as the nation's total income increases. The only valid question, indeed, was whether Ottawa had gone too far to satisfy the provinces at the expense of eroding its own revenue base.

A few months ago it might have been argued plausibly that the Federal Government, enjoying lush revenues, could well afford to share more of them with the provinces. A prospective surplus could be carved up, like a pie, in larger provincial segments.

That cannot be said today. For after proposing Plan C the Federal Government has decided, with grave inner doubts, to plunge into the fiscal adventure of national hospital insurance. The resulting costs to the national treasury will be gigantic—probably something over a quarter of a billion dollars a year.

This new cost must wipe out all chance of a revenue surplus in the visible future. There will be no more money left over to be distributed among the provinces. The Federal Government's budgetary position, which promised to be easy within the year, will be extremely tight.

This fact, no doubt, partly explains Mr. St. Laurent's blunt refusal to revise Plan C for the convenience of the provinces. They cannot have the cake of hospital insurance and eat it, too.

Mr. Bennett, if he is wise, will reconcile himself to this situation and cease hectoring a Federal Government which, after much wobbling, has decided to stand firm.

The deal offered British Columbia should be satisfactory to all thoughtful citizens, who know that any money handed on from Ottawa to Victoria comes out of their pockets as federal taxpayers.

It should also be satisfactory to Mr. Bennett, who already is rolling in revenue. His only reason for attacking it is to damage the Liberal Party and encourage his own—a manoeuvre rather too obvious to fool anyone.

Saving Him From His Friends?

DR. PETER KELLY, HIMSELF a descendant of proud Haidas and a United Church minister, has given the churches of this province occasion for thought on their treatment of the Indian.

Dr. Kelly does not suggest that the different denominations have been wilfully unkind to the native population. Quite the contrary. They have been, he implies, benevolently paternalistic to the point where they have failed to encourage the Indian to stand on his own two feet.

The eminent Indian authority is reaching beneath the surface to the basic problem of native advancement. No one knows better than he that a large number of the natives have failed to develop the enthusiasm that might be expected of them for the rights and responsibilities of full citizenship. Why should they when one of the greatest forces in their lives, the church, appears to consider them a class to be helped in their physical and spiritual needs, but not necessarily to be stimulated to a show of greater initiative?

The implication of Dr. Kelly's remarks seems to be that full citizens should help the Indians to grow up by giving the natives definite assurance that they are no longer children in our particular society.

And if one of their greatest deficiencies lies in the realm of housing and sanitation, then perhaps the authorities might insist on higher standards there.

The eminent critic of present conditions has drawn attention also to the fact that in some areas Indians are given inferior school facilities and teaching. It is gratifying, however, to note how frequently in recent years the provincial department of education has made available to natives the same accommodation as it does other children in the public schools.

No one who knows Dr. Kelly will accuse him of unkindness in his remarks. He has, however, called not only for a realistic look at the Indian, but also a realistic assessment of what his friends have been doing for and to the native. That is constructive.

On the March

TECHNICAL KNOWLEDGE AND machinery, two of the main imports into India under the Colombo and other international aid plans, have contributed to the material progress made by that country in recent years. But the figures describing that progress give a graphic impression of the giant strides made by the new republic. A tremendous revolution is taking place in India, and it is a tribute to the leadership Mr. Nehru is providing.

Thus we learn that in the next five years India will spend more than $1.6 billions on 220 irrigation and power projects. By the end of the second five year plan in 1961, nearly 90 million acres of land will be irrigated, compared with 51 million acres in 1951.

The greater growing area is showing its results in food statistics. In 1950-51 the food harvest totalled about 50 million tons. By 1954-55 the total had risen to 65.8 million tons, permitting a reduction in food imports of some four million tons.

No Time for Isolation

THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau reveals that Victoria was host to more tourists and welcomed more tourist automobiles in 1955 than during the previous year. This is surprising, in view of the fact that there was such a serious problem in providing adequate ferry connections with the mainland.

But the increase—there were 35,000 more cars visiting the Island—is not a fact on which to recline in admiration. It indicates only that if winter ferry services, and more extended summer season services, were available the total would be still greater.

This was the first winter in more than 50 years that no ferry operated in winter between Port Angeles and Victoria. Although augmented summer services are in prospect, there is as yet no guarantee that tourists will be able to cross the Strait after next September 29. For a tourist center which widely advertises its equable climate, deprivation of winter ferry service is a major tragedy.

The Bureau report says that "repeated efforts have been made, and will continue to be made, by bureau directors to have this situation remedied."

This is a project which should have top priority in our tourist efforts. We cannot afford to be cut off, for months at a time, from the main stream of one of our most important industries.

Toppling the Idol

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

ACCORDING to Oscar Fraley, who writes about sports for British United Press, there's a man named Eddie Eagan who has some solemn thoughts about sports and games. Eddie Eagan is a former Olympic boxer and is in charge of the finance committee which is trying to find a million bucks to send the U.S. team to Australia next November. Eddie says the Russians are making sports a propaganda machine, and the Americans aren't combatting this machine the right way.

Eddie is probably right when he says North American athletes tend to train in a soft and coddled manner. Nor is this a new thought. About 20 years ago, Alexis Carrel was shouting his head off about it. He said the modern athlete spends most of his time sleeping, drinking milk, and staying out of the rain and out of drafts. But not many people paid much attention. The athlete's idea is that he is saving himself. The idea of Dr. Carrel and Eddie Eagan is that he is making himself selfless even for the job of athletics. Each time he rides in a car, in order to run better, he runs worse instead. Well, that may be a slight exaggeration, but not much.

I AGREE with Eddie less, however, when he says that sport is "one of the pillars of our civilization" and this pillar is mighty shaky and we may all come tumbling down in the Decline and Fall of Rome, N.Y.; Rome, Ga., and Rome, Iowa. Not to mention Rome City, Indiana, and fifteen other American Romes. In some ways he is right about sport being shaky. As he points out, there used to be 30 athletic clubs in N.Y. City alone, and now there are only two. But I cannot think he is right about what puts the crumbs in a crumbling empire, or the lumps of lead in the white man's burden.

"One hundred years from now," says Eddie, "if we don't get on the athletic ball, we just might fall like the civilization of old."

I HAVE pictured to myself one Ancient Roman saying to another Ancient Roman: "Look here, Spurius, old boy. What are the latest results from the foot races up there in Gaul this summer?" Spurius shakes his head. "Pretty bad, Odus, old man," he says. "Our boys haven't broken a single world record for three months. And all the events are being won by German and Gallic tribesmen. There's a tribe named the Stencil that bodes ill for Rome. They have a very high type of civilization. Cultured is simply no word for it. They can all run 86 miles per hour."

At that moment a dismal thud is heard outside, and a soldier appears.

"What was that thud?" asks Spurius. "Sir," says the soldier, "Rome has fallen. Good gracious," says Odus, "to what do you attribute this?" "To our weakness in the hop, skip and jump," says the soldier candidly. "The team got too amateur or something." Spurius and Odus rush out to find the team smoking while Rome burns.

INTERVIEW

A PAL of mine dropped in to see an editor while he was back East. I'll not tell you which city, or even which country. It doesn't really matter, except to readers wishing to do business with that editor. (Name on request.) My pal had some ideas he thought the editor might jump at. He talked and talked, but there was no reply, not a single word, from the editor, who simply stared at my chum as at some British Columbian basilisk.

The writer reached the end of his ideas, and still there was dead silence and the same fixed stare. Not having brought an orchestra along with him to fill up the gaps, my friend fell silent too. Finally he said to this ill-mannered guardian of the public taste, "Hey, are you all right?" "Certainly I'm all right," said the uncouth easterner. "Well," said the writer, rising and putting on his hat while still indoors, "if that's your normal state, you mustn't waste any more of my time. You're no use to me at all." And he went out.

I dare say he'll not sell too many manuscripts to that particular editor. But he left the throne room in a triple glow of anger, amusement and accomplishment.

BE PREPARED

GOLLY, here it is Feb. 27, and I haven't told you yet that on Feb. 11 I saw hot-cross buns for sale in our village bakery. That is to say, seven weeks early. No doubt these buns are guaranteed to stay fresh for months, because they contain lanolin or some such substance.

Now, I am all in favor of having as many eccentricities in a village as possible. If a baker was unique in doing everything at the wrong season, I would cherish him and treasure him up. But a go-getting bustle in rushing the season is not eccentric at all, it is all too common. And far from being a natural effect of an Age of Speed, it makes every thing seem very boring and slow. "Seem?" That's the wrong word. . . . leave it out.

TOO TOLERANT

It seems to me that today some people are so anxious not to be thought narrow-minded, intolerance being the only thing of which their friends are intolerant—that they don't express disapproval of anything.

WAGES AND TAXES

Mr. Luff's letter brought up memories of arguments about it and about when the spilt-milk philosophers assembled around the stove 50 years ago. Some bitterly held the view that Mr. Luff, that taxes are included in wages, hence the bosses really paid the taxes! Another school held that as workers produce all wealth they not only paid their own taxes but the bosses' as well.

However, thousands today who fill out income tax forms will merely say that Mr. Luff is talking through his hat.

As for labor tyranny in public ownership, I had a letter from my brother complaining of some twenty strikes in one mine. And surely, a Labor government dare not antagonize their supporters for long! Think again Mr. Luff.

BORROWED MONEY

Regarding Mr. R. B. Loudon's letter on Saskatchewan government's records (Monday, Feb. 20), is it not true that the CCF government is very much in debt or else why did they just recently borrow $25,000,000 from the United States?

I hope Mr. Loudon will dig deeper into the reports and give me the answer.

MRS. E. FRANCIS.

LABOR PARTY ACHIEVEMENTS

Solomon in all his glory and wisdom probably did make a bad business deal e.g. 900 wives! The CCF in Saskatchewan also were not 100 per cent right but I can only say they are still in power and speak with authority on their success or reputed failures. In Britain, Australia, New Zealand, Socialist good work endures and has made those countries better places for workers to defend. (I can only speak from actual facts myself in Britain.)

In Canada the bulk of anti-labor sentiment flows copiously from the harsh-voiced radio commentators with Hitler voices. Lesser voices copy them in print. Parrots lack novelty. The advent of another Labor Government in Britain is clearly shown by Tory critics of the present government.

The voice of the people has not always been the voice of God for we would have no "Bennett with his hand" playing to lumber barons. Mistakes are made by electors but they are given a second chance in most countries outside U.S.S.R. or Spain.

Labor had the answers to most of Britain's problems in 1945. There was no fumbling Eden at the wheel then. Labor had already built new cities while Tories slept. Heaven help any Tory Government that dares to suggest Socialist structures be torn out of "the republic with a queen."

I helped and am proud of British Socialist victories over pride and prejudice and long years of "good old days." We were not alone! Liberals and even enlightened Tories joined in the peaceful Revolution.

Not one "bloated aristocrat" died at dawn! Some did still write to "The Times" in dear old London deploring labor "failures" and sighing for a British Franco maybe. In municipal matters labor had already done wonders all over Britain.

Britons were pleased with failures like one million new homes in Birmingham or free secondary education in Socialist centres. Socialism got down to earth and dreams came to life.

Visit Britain and see these things. Defeat after defeat we encountered but today labor fights for greater wins than 1945. You can't buy help such as laborites give freely to this incredible party. They only ask to share in a workers' victory.

HUMANE SLAUGHTER

The Humane Slaughter Association, the SPCA, and every other animal welfare society, not to mention a large percentage of the public, are gravely concerned over the barbarity of our slaughter houses. Conditions as they are here in Canada are set forth graphically in a leaflet "What You Don't Know About Hamburger and Pork Chops," which can be obtained from the Canadian Council for Animals' Welfare upon request.

Whereas extensive research has produced methods of slaughter much improved upon those methods first employed in the European countries in which humane slaughter has been mandatory for some years, the abattoirs of Canada remain as primitive as they ever have been.

The B.C. Department of Agriculture issues a yearly average of 83 licences to slaughter (including 18 licences to slaughter horses which are mostly turned into animal food). The volume of food animals killed in B.C. has increased substantially over the last few years, and no mercy is shown these creatures.

Inspection is carried out every week of the year, except in the case of horses which are not inspected before or after slaughter. If a subsection were added to the present Meat Inspection Act, this inspection could also include inspection for humane methods of slaughter.

The fact that the public is disturbed by the present situation is indicative of an improvement in our civilization. It is within the memory of some of our pioneers that in Nanaimo in the early days children were allowed a holiday from school to witness the "excitement" of a heifer being slaughtered in the streets of that historic old town.

CHANGED SINCE THEN

In 1922 the Coal Harbor Wharf and Trucking Co., later reorganized into the Vancouver-Courtenay Transportation Co., ran a barge service between Victoria and Courtenay. A Vancouver run was added.

In the late twenties the towboat with the barge on a 300-foot manila tow line plowed into the ice abutment of the B.C. Paint Works, the ice cutting into the hull blanking. The tugboat crew swore as they hauled in by hand the ice-covered manila tow line.

It was on Christmas Day, 1928, that a commercial fisherman caught two spring salmon off Hospital Rock, which then lay in the middle of the harbor.

Victoria's population has changed a lot since those days. Conditions seem to have changed too.

The New Challenge

BY WALTER LIPPMANN, From Washington

THE affair of the Saudi Arabian tanks is a ludicrous but damaging example of what can happen in a big and complicated government when it is not clearly led and firmly administered from the top.

For months, the U.S. government has been faced with the dangerous problem of arms shipments to the Middle East. On this subject there has recently been a conference at the highest level between the President and the British Prime Minister. There have been many pronouncements about arms for the Middle East. How then could it happen that the U.S. State Department had forgotten about its own approval of the sale of the Saudi Arabian tanks, that the defence department was operating without realizing what a mess the shipment of these arms would now cause, once the facts became known?

NO HIGH POLICY

The reason for this incident must be that there is no high policy for the Middle East which comes from the top and is administered all the way down the line from the policy-making officials to the operating officials.

The President has not, of course, been truly in command, certainly not since his illness. In fact not really since he went to Denver last August. Yet it is only the President who can effectively coordinate two great departments like State and Defence.

He can coordinate them only if at cabinet meetings and elsewhere he makes the heads of these departments understand clearly what the policy is. It is only too obvious that nothing of the sort has happened during the past six months, or could have happened.

The lack of a high command has been aggravated by the way Mr. Dulles conceives the office of Secretary of State. He thinks of himself as a roving negotiator, who represents the President's constitutional authority to conduct foreign affairs.

CONFUSION FROM IGNORANCE

He works out high problems by personal negotiation, and then leaves the policies to be administered and operated in his absence by officials who do not know at first hand what they are.

The administrative confusion is not the only, or indeed the most serious, consequence of the way our affairs have been conducted during the past six months. There has been nobody at the top whose business it has been, or who was able, to face up to the new Soviet challenge which has confronted us since the first Geneva meeting.

The President has been too ill to deal with it, and Mr. Dulles has been too preoccupied with his travels, his negotiations, and his speeches. In these past six months we have suffered the biggest and most serious setback since the Communist victory in China.

The fundamental cause of the setback is that the Soviet Union has been developing a new foreign policy since Geneva whereas we have remained frozen and inflexible in the policy of the pre-Geneva period.

That is why there is scarcely a country from France and Italy and Germany and Greece to India and beyond where the pro-Western and pro-American parties and politicians are not in trouble. With nobody at the top in Washington who can and will take new decisions, U.S. diplomacy is almost everywhere fighting unattractive rear-guard actions.

SPEECHES TO STUDY

It would be interesting to know who in the high places where decisions can be taken has been putting his mind on the speeches delivered this month at the Communist Party Congress in Moscow. They are very long speeches. But they are exceedingly important.

Their common theme is that within the Communist world they have an industrial system which is, in terms of national power, not only in arms but also in the means of capital development, already reaching equality with the West.

I do not know whether all the statistics that were put out this month are correct. But the world will not doubt the great fact that the Soviet Union is now the strongest power in Eurasia. It explains the ideological and political declarations about how Khrushchev and his people expect to win the cold war without revolutionary violence.

They believe that in the competition with us for influence in the uncommitted countries, they can make more attractive offers than we are likely to make.

The new challenge of the Soviet Union is very formidable indeed. If we are to meet it, we shall have to reverse ourselves on a number of things which are strongly believed in here. We shall have to be willing to export capital on a considerable scale. We shall have to be willing to do that without insisting on military terms, without penalizing political neutrality, and without expecting the underdeveloped but old and crowded countries to adopt all the principles of the American free enterprise system. MATTER OF TRAINING

Before David came I read several books on child psychology. It now seems to me that the child-rearing experts approach the problem from the wrong angle. Who does the training? Who tells Bill that I've got my socks in the cold weather? Who insists on having the table properly set when we've decided on a lazy meal by the fire? Who is it that, with infinite patience and sweet reasonableness, is bringing us up to be quite presentable parents? Who is it that cracks the whip? Why—David of course.

—Barbara Holdup, on the BBC.

The Monster

WHO'S that fellow huddled there, with his eyes rolled up to Heaven? Is it a prayerful devotee, gazing entranced at the glories of the altar? Is it a North American tourist, absorbing culture by gazing at some famous picture on the ceiling of a European church? Is it a frantic swain, imploring his lady love to grant him certain favours?

Ruth

Oh, cut out the fooling! That's just Dad, crouching in his car and waiting for the traffic lights to change.

Then who's that fellow with the haunted, hunted, desperate look? Is it etc. etc.?

Oh, don't let's go through all that again. That's just Dad, searching for a parking place.

Well, who's that fellow looking furious and muttering awful words beneath his breath? Is it a politician, glaring at the members of the opposition?

No, sirree! That's just Dad, cursing because another car passed him too fast when the roads were slippery.

And really, to be serious for a moment, I sometimes think that the modern car is like a monster that has us all in its grip, and dictates to us how we shall live.

There was a time when we were content with drab, dingy-looking monsters. Now they must be multi-colored and bright as any rainbow. We must even choose our clothes so they don't clash with our monsters. And, believe it or not, I've seen two-toned pens and pencils advertised as blending with the color of your car!

There was a time when we kept our monsters in a separate shed. Nowadays we love them so much that we bring them in to sleep under the same roof as ourselves.

We've become two-monster, and even three-monster families. Because it is so tiresome to share a monster, isn't it?

It costs most of us almost as much to keep a monster as to raise a child. For monsters have to eat. Their eating places take up acres and acres in every modern town.

They have to be washed and cleaned as well. And sometimes, though they're very strong, they get a bit upset inside.

The worth of lots of us is gauged by the size and shininess of our monsters. Which is silly, because most of the largest, shiniest ones aren't even paid for. They'll be traded in before they are paid for, and the debt will simply be transferred to the next one.

Each year thousands of young Canadians are conceived in the bowels of the nation's monsters. Some are almost born in them. Each year, more and more are dying in them.

A favorite sport of the Canadian young, is to race their monsters on the highways. They do it most lightlyheartedly when they've had a drink or two.

Young boys steal the monsters sometimes because the possession of one is a mark of manhood. Calculating girls are said to prefer a boy who drives a snappy-looking monster.

Fathers argue with their sons as to who is taking the monster out at night, and who is paying for its next meal. Mothers lie awake in a frenzy until their sons bring their family monster home at night.

Because of the monsters, the young have more freedom than their grandparents ever had.

We brag about our monsters' prowess, and when we get a new one we rush and show it to our friends. For to have an OLD monster is a terrible disgrace.

Our papers love to run pictures of crumpled, twisted monsters. They mark an x just where the creature came to grief. They give a detailed story of just how it reared and lunged and slipped and rolled in its final moments.

Before they reach school age even, children are taught to watch out for monsters. They're dangerous, the kids are told, but Daddy's going to get a bigger one quite soon.

And what would happen to the pattern of our daily lives if, by some strange stroke of magic, the automobile were to disappear overnight? There'd be economic chaos on this continent for one thing. But what other changes can you think of?

City Improvement Plan Launched by Jaycees

A Junior Chamber of Commerce plan to promote local improvement projects in Victoria is now in operation, committee chairman Eric Charman reported today.

He said his group plans to contact two or three persons in each block on a list of streets where joint city-property owner projects have been recommended by city engineer J. C. Garrett.

The Jaycee spokesmen asked residents in any section of the city who are interested in obtaining sidewalks, curbs and gutters to write the junior chamber—providing addresses and a suggested time for interview.

The committee will call and explain the city system under which residents on a single block may petition for the street improvements and have costs amortized over a 15-year period, payable with taxes.

"Many persons do not realize that their neighborhood could be improved at very low cost," said Mr. Charman.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

A Woman Who Is Losing Her Hair

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

Women write saying they are losing their hair so much so that they fear they will soon grow bald. What can they do? To what kind of specialist should they go? Does it pay to go to hair quacks? Will the hair come back? Will vitamins or glandular products help?

Dr. Alvarez

Naturally, it is hard to answer all these questions without being able to study the individual. A common cause for much loss of hair is a serious illness or perhaps the birth of a child. In the old days when typhoid fever was common, the patients used to come back three months after their recovery with their hair coming out in clumps.

Why three months? Because when the hair follicle was injured by the fever the hair died, and it took three months for a new hair to grow out. This new hair pushed the old dead one out. That is why it was useless and silly to go to a hair quack. New hair was on its way and no medicine was needed.

Hence it is that anyone who is losing hair should think back to see if, three months before, there was a bad fever or a severe accident. If there was no illness, and if the person has been feeling dull and sleepy and tired he or she should get examined and have the basal metabolic rate checked. It is conceivable that there is some glandular deficiency at work.

Persons who are taking large amounts of medicine should quit for a while. I know several persons who, after stuffing themselves needlessly with vitamin A, started to lose their hair.

There are a few persons who lose all the hair all over their body, but fortunately this disease is rare. We doctors do not know how to combat it.

The best specialist to see probably is a skin specialist. Some persons might see a gland specialist (endocrinologist). It is well, first, to go to an internist for a check-up.

The skin specialists can prescribe a number of dandruff removers and so-called scalp tonics in which I have but little faith. The medicine cannot reach down to the bottoms of the hair follicles where the disease is.

Will vitamins help? I do not think so. Watch out for quacks. Telephone your "Better Business Bureau" and the man there will probably tell you that the local quack is a swindler who will do his best to get all the money you have. He'll keep you coming and paying in advance as long as he can.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

Many women are much distressed by hair on the face, thighs and legs. They ask about electrolysis and other treatments, and I say that in most cases there is so much hair that I doubt if electrolysis would be feasible. It would be a lengthy and costly job, and it might leave scarring.

Women ask if a gland expert could help, and all I can say is that I much doubt it. In my experience, one of the commonest causes of great hairiness is heredity. In some cases the women tend to be hairy. In the cases of many hairy women I find that the relatives and perhaps the patient have a poor nervous system. Sometimes I suspect that the hairiness was inherited from a very hairy father.

I always advise women to remove the hair because it is abhorrent to most men. All women should remove excess hair also because its presence gives them feelings of inferiority. Hair on the upper lip can be yanked off with the help of a special wax. Much fuzz on the face and under the lower jaw can best be removed with a razor.

Hairy moles on the face can and should be removed in a minute by a skin specialist. Hair on the thighs and legs should be shaved. I think shaving is better than the use of depilating creams, but I know many persons will disagree with me. Most women who could so easily get rid of their hair with a safety razor fail to do so because they have the fixed idea that shaving will make the hair coarser and coarser. Tests have shown that this is not true. I have shaved every day for over 50 years and the hair on my face is not coarse and it is not easily visible.

LABOR HITS IMMIGRATION PROGRAM

OTTAWA (BUP)—The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and the Canadian Congress of Labor today protested against immigration policies "where people are shovelled into the country as fast as ships can bring them."

In a joint brief to the Royal Commission on Canada's economic prospects, the brief called for a flexible immigration policy.

"Immigrants are human beings—not spare parts," the labor bodies said.

"They have to be brought into the life of the nation and local communities where they settle. They have to be housed, if there are no jobs for them. They cannot be stored until they are needed."

GRAIN

WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG (CP)—Aggressive general demand highlighted an active session today on the Winnipeg grain exchange. Prices generally were higher at the close.

Best commercial demand was in barley, where shippers and exporters were good buyers. A small business was reported to the United Kingdom but indications were that other deals were in prospect. Oats received good support from domestic shippers.

Rye, picked up by shippers and others, followed the trend of U.S. markets.

Flax showed new seasonal highs as a few export orders found offerings light in early dealings. There were some reactions from the highs, however, as offerings increased at top levels.

Main factor behind the general buying was increasing reports of further European crop damage and reports of a dust storm in the U.S. winter wheat belt.

Weekend export wheat loadings totaled 1,470,000 bushels, including Germany, 660,000; United Kingdom, 560,000; and Belgium, 250,000.

Lakehead prices for class two IWA and domestic wheat were unchanged from Friday.

Teen-Aged Riot Quelled By Guardsmen

Actors Stoned By Angry Mob

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A rioting mob of teen-agers defied police for almost five hours but finally ran for cover early Sunday when a platoon of National Guardsmen marched into the heart of this resort town.

Police Capt. A. O. Folsom Jr. estimated the mob numbered between 3,000 and 4,000 with that many more spectators drawn to the scene by the disorder. "Drag race" enthusiasts formed the core of the mob, he said.

Folsom said 85 to 100 youngsters had been arrested and that police now are busy following down leads they hope will help them round up the ringleaders.

Folsom said about 15 persons were injured slightly, including one policeman who got a cut on an arm, and five firemen peppered with rocks when they tried to disperse the marauding mob with water.

During the rioting, the crowd spotted two movie actors, Barton MacLane and James Craig, leaving a restaurant after having dinner with friends. A cry, "let's stone them," brought a shower of missiles which sent the pair and their friends scurrying to safety in a motel. Neither was injured.

Crackdown on 'Fly-by-Night' Real Estate Men Urged by Norris

VANCOUVER (CP) — A crackdown on "fly-by-night" real estate dealers and unethical salesmen is being sought by the B. C. Association of Real Estate Boards.

Contents of a brief on the matter submitted to Attorney-General Bonner were disclosed here Saturday.

The 22-page report was prepared by Vancouver lawyer T. G. Norris, investigating counsel for the real estate boards.

The brief asked that an association of real estate agents be set up by statute immediately.

The association would aim at a status similar to the Law Society with a governing body empowered to discipline members for malpractice.

Mr. Norris recommended that the government "clean house" in the realty business before association members seek professional status.

He called the present licensing act "totally unsatisfactory" and said licences should not be issued unless the holder makes sale of real estate his main business. Part-time agents tend to lower the standing of the business, he said.

$6,800 SWINDLE CHARGED AGAINST VANCOUVER REALTOR

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police said here Sunday a warrant has been issued for the arrest of Morley B. Jones, president of Coastal Estates Ltd., on a charge of stealing $6,800, through a real estate transaction. Police said Jones has been missing from Vancouver for some months.

SHELL BETTER DRIVING QUIZ NO. 3

PUT YOUR FOOT ON THE GAS PEDAL HERE:

See how fast you can move to the brake!

INSTRUCTIONS: Sit in a straight-backed chair with this page on the floor in front of you. Put your foot on the gas pedal. Now hold a coin out in front of you four feet above the paper (that's about forehead-high). Drop the coin and, at the same time, go for the brake. Read below to see how your reaction time rates.

HOW DO YOU RATE? Did you beat the coin to the brake? With normal reaction speed, you should beat the coin every time. The coin takes $\frac{1}{2}$ second to reach the floor. In this $\frac{1}{2}$ second you would travel 37 feet if you were going 50 m.p.h. On a dry pavement with brakes in normal operating condition you'd travel another 188 feet before stopping completely. So watch your speed. Always stay at least one car-length behind the car ahead for every ten miles per hour you're traveling.

Like every good neighbor in the community, the Shell Oil Company is interested in your driving safety. That's why we're glad to see new roads, and to see automobile manufacturers building extra safety into today's new cars. But the spot where there's greatest room for improvement is in the driver's seat. Better driver attitudes will make our roads and highways safer for you . . . for everybody. If this test helps you think a little more about safe-and-sane driving, it will have done what the Shell people set out to do. Tear out this page and try it on your teen-agers, too. Shell—your sign of a better future on the road—suggests that you and all motorists drive safely now . . . and in the future.

NATIONAL BALLET DANCERS PRAISED BY N.Y. CRITIC

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Herald Tribune says that only further experience is needed to transform the stars of the National Ballet of Canada into "first-rank artists".

Reviewing the National Ballet's engagement at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, February 17 and 18, critic Walter Terry writes: the company never stumbled, even if "perhaps it didn't soar."

BEST OF ITS KIND IN CANADA

Victoria Symphony Wins Praise From Guest Pianist Knight

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

Symphony concert-goers Sunday afternoon were presented with good reason to believe the truth of guest artist John Knight's words concerning the Victoria Symphony Orchestra—that it is the best of its kind in Canada.

Throughout the two full symphonies, and notably the extraordinarily difficult Rachmaninoff "Paganini" Rhapsody in which it accompanied the solo pianist, there was a high degree of precision, secure tonality and technical virtuosity.

But more than this, director Hans Gruber had developed the full flavor of the music so that character and intention in each case was vivid and artistically sound.

Knight's vital pianism was strongly challenged by the technical difficulties of the Rachmaninoff, but is of such calibre that only one who knew the score could be aware of its problems.

He rippled through all intricacies fluently, but with complete absence of flourish or outward show. In passages of quiet reflection, he lingered with deep insight, forming lovely tonal images with a tone quality that was like silk and velvet.

This exquisite fineness of touch and dynamic control were further demonstrated in his encores, the Schubert "Moment Musical" in F minor and Paganini-Liszt, "The Chase."

POLISHED PERFORMANCE

In its performance of the Mozart "Linz" Symphony No. 36 in C, Gruber's intelligent and perceptive handling of this composer's work was strongly in evidence. Graceful phrases, subtle variations of mood, charming moments of gaiety were present in the polished performance.

"Some playing in particular sections of the orchestra topped anything that has been done so far this season. Delightful clarinet passages, and some skillful and intricate work on the part of the strings was to be heard in both the Mozart and the beautiful Schubert Ninth Symphony with which the program concluded.

The latter gives considerable prominence to the brass choir, particularly horns and trombones and the proficient playing of these passages, the security and warmth and clarity of tone were admirable.

This concert, which is to be repeated at the Royal Theatre tonight, should not be missed by any music-minded Victorian. For those who may not have heard the orchestra lately, there will be the thrill of discovering that if it has reached new heights this season, it has also reached new and almost unbelievable heights of sheer musical efficiency.

Tale of Mutiny Opera Setting

HALIFAX (CP)—Composer-conductor Trevor Jones is reviving "The Broken Ring," a folk opera conceived and produced in Nova Scotia.

The opera will be presented from Halifax, February 29, on the CBC trans-Canada network.

The opera takes its theme from a ballad of a true story from the early days of Canadian seafaring.

TALE OF MUTINY
Librettist Donald Wetmore, of Halifax, has set Jones' music to the tale of the Saladin mutineers who were hanged in Halifax.

Toronto baritone Bernard Johnston sings Shawn, the cabin boy who was forced to aid the mutineers. Soprano Karen Mills, of Halifax, will sing the role of Jeannie, his betrothed.

The Halifax Symphony, conducted by Thomas Mayer, will provide the music.

WIHL Playoffs Commence Tonight

The five-month schedules of the Western International and Okanagan Senior Hockey Leagues drew to a close Saturday night.

The final OSHL game saw Kelowna Packers knock off the league-leading Vernon Canadians 10-7. Final standings show Penticton in second place, Kelowna in third and Kamloops trailing.

Last games in the 30-game WIHL schedule saw Trail down Kimberley 6-4 and Spokane dump Nelson 13-5.

The results made no difference in the standings. Spokane won the league pennant earlier and Nelson, Trail and Kimberley followed in that order.

Semi-final playoffs in both leagues start today, with Trail meeting Nelson and Vernon at Kamloops in best-of-seven series.

Important Points in Placing Your Lamps

by PEGGY LIDSTONE
Home Lighting Specialist

Two important factors to remember in arranging lamps are one, they need to be decoratively right with the room furnishings, and two, functionally right to allow the best possible illumination for areas of activity—reading, writing, sewing, television viewing, etc.

The average-sized living room requires at least five lamps to make it look its very best. Each of your major furniture groupings should have sufficient light for its intended activity. Therefore, the versatility of three-lamp lamps (50/150 or 100/300) are very useful because they can be adjusted to suit your requirements. Then, there are places where light is wanted mostly for its decorative qualities. Foyers, hallways and dining nooks are most apt to have neglected spots which you can lift from drabness to beauty with the addition of an attractive lamp.

If you want further information on modern lighting tips write to me, Peggy Lidstone, c/o Lighting Institute, Canadian General Electric Co. Ltd., 163 Dufferin Street, Toronto, for a FREE illustrated booklet.

Start your Summer Sun-Tan today! Now with G-E's wonderful ultra-violet Sunlamp you can enjoy your own private sun—just where and when you want it.

A few minutes spent every day in the warm, relaxing rays of your G-E Sunlamp not only tones up your skin but provides you with a valuable source of Vitamin D.

Soon you'll have the healthy sun-tan that you usually only get on the beach in the summer. Your whole family can enjoy this "indoor sun" for as little as $13.25. The G-E RS Sunlamp fits into any standard 80-cycle AC or DC light socket. Pick-up a G-E Sunlamp for your home today!

Ike Plans Firm Rejection Of Russian Treaty Offer

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are expected to dispatch this week a new "positive" rejection of Soviet Premier Bulganin's persistent proposal for a Russian-American friendship treaty.

Diplomatic officials speculated that one way to handle the Bulganin offer would be to make a counter proposal of a treaty acceptable to the United States, Britain and France. But they have had trouble finding a formula which would do this within the requirements of American policy.

Eisenhower returned to Washington Saturday for the first time in 10 days. There is a deadline on their action on the Bulgarian proposal, which the Soviet Premier renewed most recently Feb. 1, because Dulles leaves Friday for a month long tour of Asia and the Far East.

A "positive" reply instead of another more or less bald rejection of the Bulganin proposition is considered important by diplomatic officials. They feel there is a need to take the propaganda and political initiative away from Russia on this as well as other issues.

TOUGH SPOT

The Bulganin proposal for a friendship treaty with the United States put Eisenhower in a tough spot. If he accepted he would be

Performance of a little-known work of Franz Schubert highlighted the concert presented Friday night at Centennial United church by the choir, directed by Peter Copeland, and assisted by the "Song of Miriam" is not one of the Viennese master's greatest works, but it is, nevertheless, deserving of more frequent performance, having some lovely melodic invention, full-bodied harmonies and stirring climaxes.

With Alice Waddell as soloist—her soprano voice is clear and vibrant—the choir gave a pleasing interpretation, singing with spirit

False Teeth Often Have a Certain Odor!

Soak your plates in Polident daily to avoid "Denture Breath"

Polident is the specially designed cleanser that keeps false teeth—and breath—clean and fresh always. Follow these simple rules:

1. Never use a brush on them! Your dental plates are much softer than natural teeth. Brushing wears down fitting ridges so they get loose.
2. Never use soap or toothpaste! They can leave film which collects bacteria and food particles, a major cause of offensive "Denture Breath."
3. Use a soaking-type cleanser made for false teeth only. Polident! Polident is the denture cleanser recommended by more dentists than any other. No brushing, no handling of soapy plates that can slip and break. Polident gets where a brush can't reach. Best of all, Polident always leaves false teeth odor-free. Get the world's largest selling denture cleanser, Polident, at your drug counter.

NO DANGER OF SUN EXPLODING FROM COSMIC BLAST SAYS EXPERT

LONDON (AP)—Relax, there appears no immediate danger of the sun blowing up.

Sir Harold Spencer-Jones, former astronomer royal, gave this assurance Sunday in discussing the cosmic explosions on the sun.

Asked whether the sun could blow up as a result of these solar flares, Sir Harold replied: "No, not as a result of these flares."

U.S. Family Loses Four Sons In Five Years of Road Crashes

ROCKAWAY, N.J. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Jenkins Sunday lost their fourth son from highway mishaps in five years.

The latest victim of what the father calls "high-speed accidents" was Joseph Jenkins Jr., 31.

Jenkins said last November he had been driving 35 years without an accident. That was just after his son, Ralph, 20, died after being in a coma from an accident for 65 days.

Ralph and his brother, Robert, 24, had escaped death March 21, 1954, when a two-car crash resulted in instant death for William, 31.

The first of the sons to die was Arthur, 37, killed when his motorcycle overturned as he tried to avoid hitting an auto Aug. 30, 1952. Five brothers and four sisters survive.

Vancouver Faces New Police Row

Sargent Quits Board; Murphy Threatens To Do Likewise if 'Politics' Appear

VANCOUVER (CP)—Brig. William Murphy, newest member of Vancouver's three-man police commission, said Sunday he had no objection to a four-man commission but would resign if party politics ever became an issue.

Brig. Murphy, appointed to replace Magistrate Oscar Orr who resigned last November, said also that he felt a fourth member should be appointed from city council.

He was commenting on a statement by fellow commissioner Judge Roy Sargent who announced his resignation Saturday in protest to council's move to revamp the commission, called for in an amendment to the city charter presented in the legislature.

POLITICAL ISSUE
The four-man commission was recommended by R. H. Tupper in his interim report on his six-month royal commission into the affairs of Vancouver's 750-man police force.

"That would put the commission very definitely in the hands of the elected representatives and police administration would again be a political issue in every civic election," said Judge Sargent.

Brig. Murphy said if this should occur "I would resign immediately."

Three members of city council also have protested the change which they say "goes far beyond" Mr. Tupper's recommendation.

Hungary Frees RC Leaders

VIENNA (AP)—The Hungarian government Saturday pardoned and released from jail Dr. Juszti Baranyai, second defendant in the Mindszenty trial, and five other high Roman Catholic church officials, radio Budapest reported.

Dr. Baranyai was sentenced Feb. 8, 1949, to 15 years imprisonment on charges of crimes "aimed at the overthrow of the Hungarian Peoples Republic."

Cardinal Mindszenty was not mentioned.

Socred 'Dictatorship' Hit by Ernest Winch

The Social Credit government is a dictatorship, in the opinion of CCF MLA for Burnaby, E. E. Winch.

Speaking at an open house social at Woodsworth House Saturday, the veteran politician said the Socreds will not even listen to the opposition with a "receptive ear."

He added that he believed certain government ministers had been discredited more than in any previous government.

Mr. Winch, Frank Calder, MLA for Atlin, and Randolph Harding, MLA for Kaslo-Slocan, were among party members present. A floor show and refreshments completed the evening.

"ASTHMA made me tear wood of bed with my finger-nails"

If you wheeze and gasp for breath, lose sleep, because of bronchial asthma—here is good news in a letter from Mr. Philip H. Schmidt, 77 Water St. S., Kitchener, Ont. "My asthma was so bad I was once confined to the house with it four months—and felt just about all in. When gasping for breath during the night I would actually tear the wood of my bed with my fingernails. Within a half hour of first taking Templet's RAZ-MAH, I found I could breathe more easily. Soon I was sleeping comfortably and was back at work. Within three months of starting RAZ-MAH my weight went back up from 90 pounds to 162." See if RAZ-MAH doesn't give you the same relief from asthma or chronic bronchitis. Only 79c and $1.50 at drug counters.

Breeders Protest Court Judgment

Claim Dog Caught Chasing Sheep Should Be Ordered Destroyed

GANGES—Sheep breeders on Salt Spring Island are protesting a judgment handed down in Ganges police court Saturday to Mrs. I. M. Sjostrom, owner of a dog caught in the act of chasing sheep.

Hold-Up Victim Threatened With Knives

CHEMINUS—Police on Vancouver Island are searching for two men who threatened Santa Singh, 69, in his home here early Saturday morning, lashed him to his bed, then stole $65 in cash and $100 in bonds.

The victim told police he answered a knock at his door at 3:25 a.m., and that two men, slim and in their early 20's, entered the house. Threatening him with knives, they tied him to the bed with a long scarf one of them had been wearing.

Amnesia Sufferer Disappears For Second Time

CAMPBELL RIVER—An amnesia victim, who suffered an attack of several weeks two years ago, has been missing since Friday, according to the RCMP.

Harold Benninger, 52, a building contractor, has not been seen since he visited a doctor. His car was found near the doctor's office and his money and identification papers were at his home.

When last seen he was wearing a tan ski cap, dark blue plaid shirt, dark blue gabelard trousers, a grey wool jacket and black shoes. He is five feet nine inches tall with blue eyes, wavy blonde hair and a small blonde moustache.

TOPSOIL MUST STAY

C. Saanich Berry Farmer Finds Honesty Hindrance

By DICK FREEMAN
Times Brentwood Correspondent
BRENTWOOD—The adage "honesty is the best policy" did not work in the interests of an East Saanich Road farmer who attended the last council meeting and laid his cards on the table.

For three years he has been working a berry farm and he needs water in reserve supply to irrigate his strawberry and loganberry acreage.

He has what he described as "a mountain of gravel," and he picked that location to dig for a reservoir. He had a buyer for the topsoil. Could he sell it and have it removed, in the face of a municipal by-law prohibiting such action?

Council's answer was definitely in the negative. Every member of the council expressed sympathy with the farmer who preferred not to do it the underhanded way, but the answer was still "no!"

"If we permitted you to remove the topsoil from your farm we would immediately have hundreds of others on our necks demanding the same privilege," was the expressed tenor of the board's reply.

"Here is a genuine case, but as the matter now stands we can't do anything about it."

Colin Mouat Elected Island Chamber Head

GANGES—Colin Mouat was elected president of the Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce at the annual meeting held in the Mahon Hall.

Vice-president for the coming year is Dr. L. Lambert, and A. M. J. Field is secretary-treasurer. J. Green will act as auditor and members of the council are Mrs. M. Wells, I. Bradley, A. McManus, Col. D. G. Crofton, M. T. Mout, G. Young, S. J. Wagg, H. McGill and J. B. Acland.

Optimism for the future prosperity of Salt Spring island was the keynote of the annual reports presented. Commenting on the achievements of the chamber for 1955, A. M. Brown, retiring president, pointed to the new Vesuvius-Crofton ferry service, completion of a hard-top road to Vesuvius, decision of the B.C. Electric to bring their power lines across the island, and the B.C. Power Commission's decision to bring power to the other Gulf Islands.

A committee headed by Mr. Field was given credit for urging the government for improvement to the ferry service to Salt Spring island. The subsequent expanded service to be given by the Gulf Island Ferry Co. (1951) Ltd. under its new charter, was hailed by Gavin Mouat as a "wonderful opportunity for the Gulf Islands to expand and grow."

Other committee reports were given by Mr. Acland, roads, parks, street and wharf lights; E. Booth, garbage and clean-up; Mr. Wagg, industry, finance, membership and organization.

Annual treasurer's report presented by V. Case-Morris, showed receipts of $1,146.03 and disbursements of $890.72.

A. E. Beasley Re-Elected To Third Term

CHEMINUS—A. E. Beasley was elected by acclamation to his third straight term as president of the Chemainus and District Chamber of Commerce.

W. T. Bowles was elected vice-president and Frank Dyer was named secretary. Treasurer is B. M. Shaw. Directors are Jack McNulty, Bob Bennie, Mrs. D. McBride, S. A. Bricker, C. W. Gordon, Miss E. Work, James Webster, N. Chang and C. G. Ford.

The federal government will begin work on a seaplane base installation at Crofton this month, Mr. Beasley reported.

Upon completion of the installation, Pacific Western Airlines will begin a shuttle service between Crofton and the mainland.

The chamber will ask the federal government to build a new wharf at Chemainus. Present wharf is too narrow and pilings are in bad shape, members were told.

"There isn't even room for a car to turn around," one member said.

In asking the government to consider a new wharf, the chamber will recommend that any new structure have a 60 by 60 foot head and that it be taken out at least 15 feet farther than the present wharf.

LADYSMITH—Bethel No. 13, Job's Daughters, are preparing for the official visit March 1 of Mrs. Ina Erith, grand guardian of the movement. Members reported collecting $113.23 for the March of Dimes.

BETWEEN TIMES By MONTE ROBERTS

Thirty days hath September, April, June and November,
All the rest have thirty-one,
Except February, which confuses the issue completely by having one more or less or something depending on, I think.

Leap years may be all right for clear-thinking, intelligent egg-heads. But for people like me, who rarely know what time it is, let alone what day it is, they bring nothing but misery and confusion.

As I understand it (and I may be wrong) Leap Years come around every fourth year. This leaves (I believe) three years in between Leap Years, during which one gets used to the normal progression of the months with their usual number of days.

During these three years, one is lulled into a sense of false security. Month after month goes marching by, including September, April, June and November, which hath 30 days, and all the rest, which hath 31, and February, which hath 28.

All is comfortably routine and reasonably unconfusing, even to such as me. And then—boom! It's Leap Year. And they throw an extra day at you.

I ask you, is this fair? In this day and age, one has enough trouble struggling through the regulation number of days without suffering bruises, contusions, and injuries to the ego.

An extra day is simply too much for flesh and blood to stand.

Especially as this extra day almost invariably is a regular working day.

If they must inject an extra day, they should at least make it a holiday.

Better still, make it a complete-day non. No day at all.
A day on which one does not have to get up or go to bed;
eat or wash dishes; go to school or the movies; shave, comb your hair, or look at yourself in the mirror; let the dog out or the cat in; have a party or a hangover; write a column or read one.

In short, let this extra day be a day in name only.

There are enough days as it is without foisting extra ones on us.

This is probably the best plan I have ever thought of, especially the part about neither writing a column nor reading it.

Mr. Jamieson is said to have on the project.

The committee will sit to-

George Paethorpe, who was employed as government super-

TEEN-AGERS TO RESCUE

Pup in Sack Saved From Cruel Death.

By RON COULTER
Two 13-year-old youngsters had
"who couldn't understand" why a young pup had to drown" were the heroes of a waterfront rescue of it Saturday night.

Edwin Hornsby, 77 Dock, and Johnny Tate, 27 Simcoe, were quick to retrieve a six-month-old pup which had been stuffed in a sack and thrown into icy waters off the breakwater.

A cruel mystery man who threw the dog in the water scooped at the youngsters who suggested he turn it over to the SPCA.

The two lads rescued the soaked and exhausted dog after it had clawed its way out of the sack and was swimming toward shore.

The pup was doing well and recovering today at the SPCA, where it was rushed by police shortly after the rescue.

TOLD HIS STORY
Edwin told this story of the rescue:

"Johnny, my younger brother,
Robert, 9, and I were playing around the beach near the first turn in the breakwater. It was about 7:30 Saturday night and it was dark.

"We heard someone walking near us. My friend, Johnny, had a flashlight and we saw someone about 17 or 18 years old with long black, wavy hair.

The pup, a brown and white cross-breed, was "in pretty bad shape when it arrived," Inspector Hayward said.

He said it had swallowed a lot of salt water and had some in its lungs.

"The tide brought him back
and landed him against rocks.
Johnny and I pulled him out."
My dad had called police. They took the dog to the SPCA.

NIGHT NURSE
Mrs. Ted Hayward, wife of the SPCA Inspector, nursed the young pup throughout the night.

Inspector Hayward was carrying out an investigation today in an attempt to find the responsible party.

He urged co-operation of the public and said that all information will be dealt with confidentially.

The pup, a brown and white cross-breed, was "in pretty bad shape when it arrived," Inspector Hayward said.

He said it had swallowed a lot of salt water and had some in its lungs.

"The tide brought him back
and landed him against rocks.
Johnny and I pulled him out."
My dad had called police. They took the dog to the SPCA.

CLOSE CONTEST

contest of it right down to the last race. Aggregate winner was Peter Young, 1,639 points; second, Ned Ashe, 1,630.5; third,
John Baess, 1,627 points.

Closest finish was in the Sunday series, in which Baess edged out Young, 1,620.88 points to 1,620.44. Ashe was third with 1,435.

Sunday series results: Ashe,
1,646; Harry Barnes, 1,560; and Young, 1,478.

The junior boys' skippers had haven't yet decided whether to

CORONER RULES SUICIDE IN VIEW ROYAL SHOOTING

A 19-year-old married man died Sunday of a self-inflicted gunshot wound following a drinking party at View Royal, according to Coroner Dr. E. C. Hart.
Coroner Hart said, following an inquiry this morning, the death of Vernon Smart, 3 Midwood, was a suicide.

He said the death occurred after party attended by three couples.

Smart died shortly after RCMP at Colwood were called to his home at about 2:45 a.m.

RCMP said he was alone with his wife when they arrived. The others had just left when the shooting occurred.

They said Smart was found in a bedroom with a bullet wound in his stomach inflicted by a .30-30 calibre rifle.

June Start Set On Power Cable

Submarine Link With Mainland To Be in Operation in Fall

Laying of B.C. Electric's 95-mile submarine power cable from Vancouver to Vancouver Island will begin early in June. It will be completed in July and be in regular service by the fall.

"The cable will bring the Island as close to the mainland generating stations as if they were in the next street," a B.C. Electric official told The Times today.

Already, he said, the route of the cable under the sea has been carefully plotted.
It is in five unbroken sections, 15 to 20 miles long, and each foot of cable weighs 15 pounds.

In plotting the path of the cable B.C. Electric engineers are relieved to find no under-sea obstruction along the ocean bed.

In two places, however, the cable will run up out of the sea and across Galiano and Salt Spring islands. This is because the islands lie directly in its path.

Manufacture of the cable has been in progress night and day for more than a year at the Manchester, England, plant of British Insulated Calcenders Cables Ltd., which claims to be the only company in the world manufacturing cable in 20-mile lengths.

The machinery turning out the cable has not stopped for more than a year, which means that 24-hour shifts have been maintained since February, 1955.

The 95 miles of cable, costing $6,000,000, is scheduled for completion by May 1. It will then be shipped to Vancouver via the Panama Canal aboard

SOLDIERS' 'POLICE CHIEF' SAYS:

Marriage Helps Military Man

Marriage is "the best thing in the world" for the Canadian soldier, according to the army's provost marshal, Col. J. R.
Stone, DSO, MC. He visited army units, RCMP and civil police in Victoria today.

Col. Stone rates marriage best for keeping men out of trouble and Canada has the best-behaved soldiers in the world.

All troops are the same when they have nothing to do, especially if new in a particular place, he said. They get together downtown and "get loaded." From there, anything can happen.

But the steady influence of marriage helps them out of trouble, he indicated.

The 46-year-old officer is a native of Salmon Arm who joined the army as a private in 1939 and in five years was commanding officer of his unit, the Loyal Edmonton Regiment in its Italian action.

"There is a better type of man in the army today," Col.
Stone said. "We still get the odd fool, but soldiers get nowhere bucking the army."

BEST BEHAVED
"I think Canada has the best-behaved soldiers in the world.
This was proven in Germany (where the Second Canadian Infantry Brigade is stationed). If they have 18-20 people in detention, it is unusual."

"There is no major crime in any army establishment in Canada," he added.

The main job of the provost corps, and has been for more than a year, is prevention of offences, and the plan is paying up their season or continue for a few weekends.

The corps' greatest concern is security, and for this the provost soldier is one of the army's most highly-trained. It takes

Expert Services Sought To Plan Road Controls

Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt will be asked to join in a Victoria plan to hire a traffic expert so planning for traffic development of the whole area may be carried out simultaneously.

The suggestion was passed to intermunicipal committee by Victoria public works committee following talks on bringing to Victoria a top engineer to overhaul traffic flow planning.

Both motions came from Ald.
M. H. Mooney, who has obtained a bid of $3,000 from a former Sacramento, Calif., traffic engineer. He offered to make a survey of Victoria and report after six months.

The public works committee asked city engineer J. C. Garnett to seek other bids from consulting engineers.

Ald. Mooney felt that a study and report on Victoria would be incomplete unless consideration were given in it to the sources of traffic affecting the city situation. If Cook Street, for instance, were made a one-way street, it would have ramifications in Saanich.

MOTION PASSED
Ald. Arthur Dowell, chairman of the committee, who returned today from a winter vacation, said he couldn't see the advantage of an intermunicipal study.
But he and Ald. Geoff Edgewood supported passing the motion to the intermunicipal committee.

City electrical engineer K. P.

Reid appeared before the committee to ask policy be set with regard to the B.C. Electric plan to place all its downtown wiring underground.

The committee asked him to bring in a detailed recommendation at another meeting. The engineer said he felt the city should lay ducts for its decorative lighting, traffic signal, siren system, fire alarm circuits and cluster lamps at the same time as the BCE operation begins.

Ferry Service Hopes Dimmed
By Ship Lack Union Steamships Ltd. have so far been unable to find any vessels suitable for a fast ferry service between Vancouver Island and the mainland. J. F.
Ellis, general manager, told The Times today.

"This means that if we decide to go ahead with this service we shall have to build ferries specifically designed for the run."

Mr. Ellis said the company is still undecided whether the service will be profitable, but investigations are continuing. A New York expert has been brought to Vancouver to help in a comprehensive survey of the route.

"We have looked everywhere for suitable tonnage," Mr. Ellis said, "but it is no easy matter to find vessels available of the type we require."

Since last November Union Steamships have been considering construction of two general purpose ferry ships—as big or bigger than the Chinook—to give eight round trips daily between the Island and the mainland.

Court Dismisses Suit Against Timber Cruisers

A civil suit instituted against Hibberson Timber Co. Ltd., timber cruisers and evaluators, by Myrtle L. Whitehill and her two brothers, Hector C. Irving and Volney Irving, was dismissed by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson today.

Mrs. Whitehill in her action claimed that the firm, acting as her agent, made misrepresentations to her with regard to the value and amount of timber on her property near Shawnigan lake.

She alleged that acting on the firm's advice that the timber was of little value she entered into a logging agreement with Fred Wood of Shawnigan lake, for the sale of timber at $600.
She subsequently learned, she said, that Mr. Wood took over 1,000,000 feet of timber from the land.

Mr. Justice Manson in his judgment said there was no evidence of fraud or misrepresentation on the part of the firm and Mrs. Whitehill had failed to prove her case.

With regard to an alternative argument advanced by Mrs.
Whitehill that the company failed to make a proper timber survey on the property, Mr.
Justice Manson said there was also no evidence to show that this was the case.

Give Eiderdown New Life With Gay Paisley Cover

By PENNY SAVER

I've had an old, luxuriously soft eiderdown on my bed for years, and I just hated to admit that it was showing signs of age. It was still soft and fluffy, but the covering was badly in need of replacement. Repeated cleanings, washings and airings had left their mark. I was on the verge of sending it off to greener pastures, when I found comforter covers in town. They're made of washable cotton and come in gay paisleys. The backgrounds are pink, blue, or mauve, and they're banded with four-inch satin in pink, blue or gold. You can have a renewed comforter for just $4.89. It's certainly less expensive than buying a whole new one, isn't it?

Accessorizing that new spring outfit is no small problem. Whatever you're planning, you'll be wanting matching gloves. . . and I can tell you where to buy some crocheted shorties that are sure to merit raves from all your friends.

These gloves are beautifully hand made right here in Victoria. Buy them in all the pale spring shades and in white or black too. Feeling fancy? Then choose a pair trimmed with tiny seed pearls or rhinestones. (These, incidentally, make for perfect cocktail gloves.)

And, if the color you're wanting isn't in stock, don't despair. As long as your color choice can be found among local crocheted yarn supplies (and be lieve me, the color range is a pair.

wide), you may order a pair made to suit your taste. Wonderfully practical, these gloves wash and dry to look like new every time. Price? Just $2.95 a pair!

Bareback shoes which are so wonderful for dancing and look so smart, need that finishing touch that only barefoot nylons can give. When they first arrived on the hosiery counters, they were over $2 a pair. Gradually, they've crept down to $1.50 a pair. Another note of good news is that these sheer beauties, which, after an evening of dancing, used to be completely ruined, have been given a new lease on life. Mesh barefoot nylons are yours for the same wonderful price of $1.50 a pair.

Let Married Student Solve Own Problems

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

When people are old enough to marry, they are old enough to stand on their own feet and solve their own problems without rushing to parents for help.

(Q)—"My son is a sophomore in college. He won a scholarship because of his high grades in high school. This year, he and a girl he met at college last year decided they wanted to be married so, against our advice and pleadings, he was married during Christmas vacation. This girl was on a scholarship too, and, as neither her parents nor we have enough money for their education, it is important that they keep their scholarships."

"My son has just written to me that his grades this year are such that the Dean has warned him he is likely to lose his scholarship. Now he wants me to borrow money so he can finish his education. He hasn't said so, but I gather from things said at the time of the wedding that his wife is not doing well either and may lose her scholarship. Would you advise me to try to borrow the money to see my son through college?"—B. A.

(A)—Under no conditions should you mortgage your future to see your son through college. It may be years before he would be able to pay you back, especially if he has children, and you and your wife would then be paying off this debt at a time in your lives when you might need that money badly.

Your son married against your advice. Now it is up to him to solve the predicament he has gotten himself into. All colleges have student loans. Let him apply for a loan and assume the responsibility for paying back the money to the college when it is due.

If he has allowed his romance to interfere so seriously with his work that the college will not lend him money, then it will be up to him to get out and earn money to finish his education, even if it means leaving college for several years to do so.

If a college education meant so much to him that he wanted to finish it, he should have made good and retained the financial help he had in the scholarship. If you help him out now, he will come back to you for help every time he gets into trouble in the future.

Send your problems to Elizabeth Hurlock, in care of this newspaper.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Have Positive Attitude When Looking at Life

A positive approach to life as compared to a negative one can make life seem as different as day is from night.

We see this all the time if we are observant. One person may go traveling in a country, which is not noted for its brisk cleanliness and efficiency but is famous for its charm. This person will see only dirt and inconvenience and overlook the charm.

Another may go to the same place and be thrilled by the colorful surroundings and the whimsy of the people, by throaty serenades drifting through the moonlight toward dawn and by the noise and confusion of early merchants as they prepare their wares for the day.

One person will look at a sunset and say, "Oh, it's going to rain tomorrow . . . how awful!" Another may see the same sunset and sigh, "how beautiful; what wonderful yellow hues the sunset has tonight!"

One woman may say to a guest, "I do not suppose you would like a cup of coffee, would you?" Another might say with real enthusiasm, "Do let me give you a cup of coffee!" These are only small examples of the difference between a positive and a negative approach to daily living. If we are smart we will not save the positive approach for great crises but will oil the grinding wheels of life, with it and will enrich our lives with it. You will have more fun that way and nine times out of 10 it works to make your life more enjoyable. It works in subtle ways which even you may never recognize.

If you would like our eight-week self-improvement marathon booklet send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Of course, sometimes you are disappointed. You may say to your ever working husband, "I just know you would like to take me dancing this evening!" He may look at you with a sort of "What's wrong with you?" expression and turn you down flat.

You may say to your little son or daughter, "It will be fun to help me with this kitchen floor." But we can get it done in no time at all, that is, with your help. "You may have the answer, 'Sorry, I'm playing jacks next door.' or 'Mamie and I are cutting out paper doll dresses this afternoon. See you later!' I still believe that it is a good policy to have the positive approach. This uncovers so much beauty and fun and stimulation

Greater Understanding of Minds Of Men Needed in Search for Peace

In an address given at the annual international banquet of Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club on Saturday evening, Prof. S. N. F. Chant, OBE, MA, presented a thoughtful and moving plea for world understanding and peace.

The dean of the faculty of arts and sciences at University of British Columbia stressed the importance of understanding the ways of men.

"After all, the instruments of war and destruction that man creates are merely tools which he devises to give expression to his hostility, and we need more understanding of the human fears and suspicions that give rise to hostility," he asserted. "If as put forth in the statement of UNESCO, 'wars begin in the minds of men,' it behooves us to give more careful study to the minds of men. It is urgently needed."

With quiet sincerity, the speaker pointed out that in order to preserve and strengthen the democratic way of life constant effort must be made to maintain its highest principles and the emphasis should be on constructive moves that strengthen this way of life in the world. Here he cited the Colombo Plan which has been carried out without distrust and resentment.

Peace is a positive not a negative thing, Prof. Chant pointed out, and to preserve it we must start thinking in positive terms rather than in any negative terms of fear and suspicions.

AT HEAD TABLE
Prof. Chant was introduced by Mrs. Ruby Masters, first vice-president of the club, and thanked by Mrs. Clare Lord, a past president.

Daffodils and fern decorated the head table, where the club president, Mrs. Marguerite Laughlin, presided. Seated with her were Hon. Wesley Black, who brought greetings from the provincial government; Mayor Percy B. Scurrah, who presented the city's greetings; Mrs. Black; Mrs. Scurrah; Prof. Chant; Miss Margaret Clay, a vice-president of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs; Mrs. Margaret Campbell, immediate past president of National Federation; Miss Elizabeth Forbes, a member of the national board; Miss Helen Grimmer, provincial president; Mrs. Marion McKenzie, director of District No. 1, State of Washington; Mrs. Ida Blood, Tacoma; Mrs. Evelyn Kreiderman, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith; Mrs. Masters and Mrs. Lord.

IN CANDLE LIGHT
Toast to international federation was proposed by Mrs. Smith and the response given by Miss Clay. An impressive candlelight ceremony in which the Victoria club re-affirmed its sisterhood with clubs around the world was conducted by Mrs. Laughlin, assisted by Mrs. Gladys Rough and Miss Lillian

Members of the club, including Mrs. Ruby Masters, first vice-president, and Mrs. Clare Lord, past president, are seated at the head table.

The banquet was held at the Empress Hotel, with a large number of guests in attendance.

The evening's entertainment was provided by a talented group of musicians.

Young Scots Have Time At Annual Indoor Meet

Young Scots had their day Saturday when Victoria Highland Games Association staged its third annual indoor meet in the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans' Club.

More than 90 from all parts of the Island, ranging from toddlers to 16-year-olds, skirled the pipes and danced in afternoon and evening sessions, then let older members of the association take over for a social dance. The 17-event program was opened by Greater Victoria Schools Pipe Band, led by Pipe Major Jamie Troy.

Winners were as follows: Highland fling, novice under 9 years—Doreen Dickson, Beverly Mill, Carol Peters. Highland fling, novice over 9 years—Marilyn Daysmith, Carol Brown, Nora Robertson. Highland fling, under 9 years—Margaret Knight, Gregory Underwood, Trudy Conrad. Sword dance, under 9 years—Margaret Knight, Trudy Conrad, Elaine Dickinson. Sword dance, under 11 years—Pat Conrad, Lula Brown, Heather Robertson.

Hills Winner Of Motorbike Main Event

Motorcyclist Ernie Hills, 20, defeated veteran competitors in the senior cyclist's major scramble, annual event of Victoria Motorcycle Club held Sunday.

Hills won a novice trial staged by the club two weeks ago, placing him in the senior class. His total tally Sunday was 33, 11 points better than the second place score tied by John Collyer and Ron Bissenden.

Wes Morhart was third with 45, Vern Amor fourth with 48, and Dave Moore placed fifth with a total of 51 points against him on the three-lap, 30 check-point course at Metchosin.

Scheduled for five laps, the event was cut to three because of bad weather. Out of 21 entries, two riders retired before finishing the grind, witnessed by a large turnout of spectators.

Next meeting of the club will be March 18, when riders from all over the Pacific Northwest will take part here in the 100-mile Kirk Trial.

Secondary roads and logging trails will be followed by competitors riding to time for part of the race, and for riding skill for the balance.

YOUNG TORIES URGE CANADA BUILD PIPELINE

OTTAWA (CP)—Public ownership of the proposed natural gas pipeline from Alberta to eastern Canada was proposed Sunday by the Progressive Conservative Student Federation.

More than 60 students from 19 universities and colleges adopted a resolution that the West's natural gas "should be developed and utilized by and for Canada and Canadians by means of a pipeline running through Canadian soil and built and operated by a publicly-owned corporation."

THREE JOB OPPORTUNITIES WAITING FOR EACH

UBC Engineering Graduates Can Be Choosy

The 150 spring graduates in the faculty of engineering at University of B.C. each will have at least three job opportunities.

"Requests and opportunities for graduates this year are the largest we have ever had in almost all fields," said Col. John F. McLean, director of university personnel department.

Representatives of more than 100 firms have visited his office since Jan. 1, competing for graduates in engineering, commerce, arts, physics, law, forestry and other fields.

Because of the huge demand, salary offers have climbed above last year's rates.

Fewer than 1 per cent of UBC graduates have left Canada in favor of the U.S. in the last three years, a former practice common to Canadian university graduates attracted by higher wages and other advantages.

There is no indication at UBC that any 1956 graduates will accept jobs in the U.S., Col. McLean said.

A few, however, are going to the United Kingdom, particularly engineers.

Opportunities generally are in industry, government service and research.

The specialized fields, such as teacher training, pharmacy and medicine, are also demanding many graduates.

"Reason for the abnormal demand at this time is centred in the low birth rate of the 30s, plus an expanding economy throughout the country," Col. McLean explained.

"Opportunities in B.C. are greater than in the past, particularly in industries associated with construction (civil engineering) and exploration work (mining engineering)."

EATON'S Where Victoria Fashions Begin — Shows That the look of....

Harmony

is the fashion of Spring

Dresses have a softer look this Spring.

Softer in fabric, in line, in detailing, achieving a truly elegant look for daytime and late-day.

The basic sheath has many interpretations... slender, or the newest "away-from-the-body" line... many with the "sheath-plus" jacket or floating panel idea.

See full skirts in shirt dresses, long-torso dresses and graceful princess dresses.

This soft look is expressed by light silks and crepes, by navy blue and black (enjoying the fashion limelight again), by sophisticated prints... and by fresh-looking white trims.

See this great variety of Spring dresses now, at EATON'S, where Victoria Fashions Begin.

The "sheath-plus" idea... slender, scoop-neck sheath is topped with a hip-length jacket in a matching avocado and white print. Collar and cuff trim in jet black velvet. Size 14. 49.95

Black straw toque sits eyebrow level... detailed with a grosgrain ribbon bow and rhinestone pin set smack in the centre. 13.95

The Empire influence... navy blue silk taffeta with bands of pleated navy organza crossing the bosom and ending in graceful floating panels at back. More back interest where the neckline dips to a deep V. Size 16. 49.95

Pink straw rocker... deeper and prettier, doctored with little velvet petals over the brim. 13.95

Empire sheath... news: in black silk faille; more news: the modified sailor collar and the crisp white trim at neckline and sleeves. Size 12. 65.00

Navy straw tambourine... big, wide and wonderful. Edges are banded in navy rayon satin. 15.95

VIENNA (AP)—Prague radio charged today that the United States has been flying spies and subversives into Czechoslovakia by means of gondola-equipped balloons.

This was the latest of a long series of charges aimed by the Czech Communists against the U.S. for balloons launched from West Germany. The Czechs claim one of these balloons caused the crash of a Czech airliner Jan. 18 with loss of 22 lives.

Date Set for Resumed Tax Talks

March 9 has been set by Prime Minister St. Laurent for renewal of the Dominion-provincial conference on tax-sharing, Premier Bennett revealed in the legislature this afternoon.

The B.C. premier said he would attend the Ottawa meeting. Prime Minister St. Laurent earlier offered to reconvene the conference, if enough provincial premiers desired, but would not budge, except in some details, from the federal offer made late last year.

Wildcat Swims Will Be Ended

TORONTO (CP)—Wildcat Lake, Ontario, swims are under proposed legislation to be considered by the Ontario legislature, it was announced today. A bill to that effect would be sponsored by Labor Minister Daley, whose department supervises the Ontario Athletic Commission.

Athletic commissioner L. V. Merv McKenzie, announcing the proposed bill, said it provides that before undertaking any long-distance swim in Ontario professional swimmers and amateurs alike will have to obtain a permit from the OAC.

Woman Murdered With Axe

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que. (RUP)—Mrs. Eddy Boisvert was slashed to death today with an axe and her husband, Eddy Boisvert, was being sought in connection with the slaying.

Safecrackers Get $1,800

VANCOUVER (CP)—Safecrackers escaped with $1,800 early Sunday from a downtown grocery market. Police said thieves forced bars in a rear window, then moved the safe from the front to the rear where the dial was knocked off and the safe door blown open.

Woman Slashed in Knife Attack

VANCOUVER (CP)—A woman who told police she was attacked by another woman wielding a butcher knife was treated in hospital Sunday for four cuts, each about an inch and a half long.

Twenty stitches were required to close cuts on the hands, and arms of Mrs. Pauline Bryant following a fracas in a hotel.

Mrs. Yvonne Quinones, another tenant in the same hotel, was charged with wounding Mrs. Bryant.

Racial Discrimination Job Law Before House

B.C. legislature today gave first reading to a bill to prevent discrimination in respect of employment.

The principle of the bill is that "it is contrary to public policy in B.C. to discriminate against men and women in respect of their employment because of race, color, nationality, ancestry, or place of origin."

Prosecutions under the act may be started by trade unions, employer organizations, with the approval of the minister of labor.

Trade unions are required to agree with the terms of the act as well, which contains a maximum penalty of $100.

OTTAWA (RUP)—The government will "proceed as quickly as possible" to boost civil servants' salaries.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent disclosed this decision today in a letter to Fred Whitehouse, president of the Civil Service Federation of Canada.

Similar letters were sent to the Amalgamated Civil Servants of Canada, the Professional Institute of the Public Service of Canada and the Civil Service Association of Ottawa.

It will take a month or six weeks, the prime minister said, to compile the facts and figures on which the raises will be based.

FAMILY 'STRIKE' ENDS QUICKLY

New Talks Started in Cyprus Crisis

BY SHAHE GUEBENLIAN

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters) — Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd opened talks with British officials here today in a visit that may bring a crucial meeting on the Cyprus question between himself and Archbishop Makarios.

Lennox-Boyd said on his arrival by plane Sunday night that he expected to see the Greek Orthodox Church leader, who heads agitation for union of this British Mediterranean island colony with Greece.

But he said a meeting with Makarios would depend on his talks with Governor Sir John Harding.

Makarios Sunday sent his "final reply" to Harding — on British proposals for island self-government, offered as a substitute for the Greek Cypriot demand for complete freedom to unite with Greece.

A major obstacle holding up a Cyprus settlement is understood to be Britain's reluctance to grant the amnesty demand.

Lennox-Boyd is here for two days. The atmosphere was tense as he met with Harding.

Within hours of his arrival Sunday night terrorists attacked a police station 17 miles from Nicosia. They drove up to the Chatos village station, got out of their car and opened up on the station with at least four machine-guns.

Troops and police fired back and the terrorists drove off into the night. There were no casualties.

Minister Promises to Discuss Pension With Ill Miner's Wife

By TONY DICKASON

Mrs. Bernice Zucco, with three of her four children, today staged a one-and-one-half-hour sit-down strike on the steps of the Legislative Buildings.

The pretty, 33-year-old mother was protesting regulations which prevent her bedridden husband Jack, 44, suffering tuberculosis, from getting a silicosis pension from the Workmen's Compensation Board.

She and the children arrived from Vancouver on the early morning boat, and at the seat of government at 8:45 a.m. Temperature was 40 degrees; there was a slight drizzle and a chill wind off the harbor waters.

At 9:45 Charles Parker, Social Credit member for Peace River, said he would try to arrange an appointment for Mrs. Zucco with Labor Minister Lyle Wicks, and Mrs. Zucco and children went into the warmth of the inquiry office.

"We'll stay here until we hear about the appointment," she said.

At noon today, an appointment with Mr. Wicks for 3 p.m.

She started her strike Thursday in the compensation offices in Vancouver, then announced she was taking the case directly to the government.

Tired waiting
"I'm tired of waiting, and want security for my children," she told The Times. With her Margaret, 13; Johnny, 11; Dorothy, 6. The other child, Dorothy, 4, is staying with relatives in Castlegar.

Mrs. Zucco says her husband caught silicosis, a condition resulting from effects of mineral dust, before he contracted tuberculosis, but evidence of silicosis.

Eleven Die
In Crash of U.S. Bomber

DAYTON, O. (UP)—A four-engine air force bomber crashed into a barn near here today killing all 11 persons aboard, officials at Wright Patterson air force base said.

Authorities said the plane set fire to the barn. The blaze spread to a nearby house, believed unoccupied.

GOP Sure
President
Will Run

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower "in all probability" will hold a news conference Wednesday, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said today.

The press secretary declined to say whether Mr. Eisenhower's announcement will be made after the afternoon closing of the New York stock market to minimize its effect on market prices.

"Do you know the president's intentions?" he was asked.

WOULDN'T TELL

Hagerty was reminded that he said in Thomasville that Mr. Eisenhower had not communicated his decision to anyone in Washington. Asked if that still held, Hagerty said he was not going to discuss the matter "and that doesn't mean yes or no."

Asked if the White House had requested radio or television time for the president this week, Hagerty answered with a flat "No."

Mr. Eisenhower has said that he expected to make his decision by the end of this month, and that he was inclined to announce it at a news conference, Wednesday is Feb. 29, the last day of the month.

Belief that Mr. Eisenhower will say "yes" has been strong in Republican circles in the past few days.

But Mr. Eisenhower himself has offered no public clue since he returned from his 11-day vacation in South Georgia, where he tested his physical strength with fairly strenuous golfing and hunting.

Some sources close to Mr. Eisenhower looked for a "yes, but..." answer.

ALGERIAN
BRITONS

ALGIERS, Algeria (Reuters) — An angry anti-American crowd of French settlers attacked a British parliament member and two British television cameramen Sunday because they believed the Britons were Americans.

Police rescued Labor MP Woodrow Wyatt and the two cameramen when the crowd turned on them at the funeral of an Algerian architect slain by Algerian rebels who ambushed a bus near here Friday.

The rapidly deteriorating situation in Algeria and a new flare-up of violence in Morocco formed the background to French government talks at Paris on France's North African problems.

President Rene Coty met with the cabinet to draw up urgent plans to deal with the situation in Algeria, where intensifying rebel activity has caused increasing unrest among French settlers.

Robert Lacoste, French minister residing in Algiers, was expected to ask the cabinet for clear directives on economic, social and political reforms in Algeria.

At the same time Franco-Moroccan talks on future relations between the two countries under an "independence with interdependence" formula were continuing here.

Karamanlis Forming New Greek Cabinet

ATHENS (AP)—Premier Constantine Karamanlis resigned today and King Paul immediately asked him to form a new government.

The National Radical Union led by Karamanlis won 163 of Parliament's 300 seats in Greece's general elections Feb. 19.

With his solid majority, Karamanlis, pledged to continue Greece's alliance with the West, is expected to have no difficulty in forming a cabinet.
